

GREAT BATTLE AT PRIMARY IN SAN FRANCISCO

PLANNED TO THUG THOS. PRATHER

Boy Murderers Laid in Wait to Rob the Well-Known Banker.

The murder of a Chinese and a plan to hold up Banker Thomas Prather of the Union National Bank and Justice of the Peace W. R. Geary of East Oakland are some more crimes for which the Jim Crow gang is responsible.

The murder of the Chinese was the work of young Schneider, who struck him on the head with a stone as he was passing him on a flat gravel car near Elmhurst. The stone struck the Chinaman in the head and felled him to the ground, and the body was afterward picked up and brought into town by a passenger train and at a coroner's inquest held on the remains it was decided that the Chinaman must have fallen from the rear end of a train, as he happened to have a ticket in his hat.

WATCHED A BANKER.
The plan to hold up Banker Prather is told by Elmer Crowhurst, the younger brother of the leader of the gang, and corroborated to some extent by Percy Pembroke.

The plan was to waylay him as he returned home from the theater. The scheme was spoiled, so the younger Crowhurst says, because he backed out.

Pembroke says that he was employed with some painters at work on the Prather home on Alice street, and was busy engaged in mixing some paint at the rear of the house one day when Jim Crowhurst came around to fix a lawn mower.

"I was working at the Prather home with some painters," said Pembroke, "and was mixing paint, when suddenly Jim Crowhurst came around there. I don't think he knew I was there, and we got to talking. He used to go around with a little bag of tools and would fix sewing machines and lawn mowers and things like that, and I think he got something to fix there. Anyhow he got around back there and after we had talked awhile he showed me two pistols he had in the bag with the tools. He told me he had been having pretty good luck, but did not tell me just what he was thinking of doing. That was all that I saw of him there, but I should not be surprised if he was looking around trying to see what chance there was to steal something."

SOMETHING GOOD.

It was shortly after this that Elmer Crowhurst says that his brother Jim told him to come out with him, as he had something good staked out, and says:

"My brother found out that Mr. Prather had gone to the theater and he wanted me to go with him and wait for him when he came back and hold him up under some trees near his home. At first I said I would and was got everything ready, but after waiting for some time I got cold feet and finally I said that I would not do it. I guess it was because we had to wait so long that I got afraid."

AFTER JUDGE GEARY.

It was rather an amusing incident that Judge Geary had with the Crowhursts, and he is probably unaware of it at the present time. It was the same night that they held up young Guidice, who was out walking with a young lady near Lafayette park, and was held up, and the robbers only got but twenty cents. It was only a few minutes afterwards that Justice Geary came along and the two followed him, trying to get a convenient place in which to hold him up, but so many people came along that they were unable to do this, although they followed him to the new Postoffice building.

At that time they did not know who Judge Geary was, but it was only a few nights afterwards that Geary wanted to get some one at his house to play the piano, and employed young Crowhurst, who immediately recognized him as the man they had followed, and entertained him for several hours, and heard the Judge telling about two young fellows who had followed him and whom he thought acted very suspiciously. Both of them are now in jail and if he went and took a look at

WORKERS AT THE POLLS

Both Sides Are Claiming Victory in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 8.—The primary election to-day is exciting much interest and phenomenally heavy vote is being polled.

The issue practically is the endorsement or repudiation of the present city administration and though there are several tickets in the field, there is no other important point of difference.

Nearly 24,000 votes had been cast up to noon, which is regarded by the Republican League, representing the anti-administration portion of the Republican party as evidence that the people generally went to the polls early to express their dissatisfaction with the present regime.

This, however, is not admitted by the Ruel administration men, who are working hard in every district.

No serious trouble has been reported from any precinct and though political feeling runs high, the police stations at the various polling places have had little occasion to exercise their authority.

Wallace Bradford, chairman of the Republican League Club of the Thirtieth district, and one of the best known men in the city, was arrested on complaint of Commissioner of Public Works Frank Mastrilli, on a charge of "expressing political opinions within 100 feet of the polls." He secured his release on bail.

The Bulletin this evening charges that many frauds have been perpetrated at the polls.

TO GET "SQUARE DEAL"

So Says Secretary of War Taft, to Island People.

MANILA, August 8.—Secretary Taft was the guest of honor tonight at a banquet given by the combined Chambers of Commerce at the Grand Opera House. Covers were laid for 500 guests. The address of welcome was made by Governor Wright, who said, in part:

"It may seem somewhat inappropriate for me to say so tonight, but gentlemen, I think we have a right to ask you for what our President calls a 'square deal,' which means a fair and equitable one. There is not to be discussed at this time but when the American people takes over the sovereignty of a people without consent, they will get a square deal."

A toast to the President was responded to by Mr. Foster Payne. In speaking of the benefits, he took occasion to propose Secretary Taft's candidacy for President. In responding to the toast to the navy, Representative Foss, chairman of the House Committee on Naval Affairs, declared that its strength should be increased. Representative Cooper, chairman of the trip of the committee to a on insular affairs spoke on "Congress and the Philippines" and Secretary Taft discussed "The Philippines in 1900 and 1905."

On entering the opera house and taking a box Miss Alice Roosevelt received a great ovation.

On Wednesday afternoon there will be a hearing of the tobacco interests, and Major-General Corbin will give a dinner to Miss Roosevelt which will be a brilliant function.

WOMAN'S BODY IS RECOVERED

INDIANAPOLIS, August 8.—The dead body of Lorah Whitson of Russellville, Ind., was taken from the partially submerged wreck of the excursion steamer Salsaline, which went down yesterday with 180 persons on board. Whitson was the only person injured.

PEACE ENVOYS ARE BUILDING WRECKED; MANY KILLED

MR. KOGORO TAKAHIRA, JAPANESE MINISTER TO THE UNITED STATES AND SECOND PEACE NEGOTIATOR.

Russia's Representatives Seeking to Learn Demands of the Japanese Nation.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., August 8.—With one of the foreign peace envoys within its gates, and the other three practically at the harbor's mouth, Portsmouth today awoke to the realization that one of the most important days in its history was actually at hand.

The Russian envoy, M. Witte, arrived last night and early today a wireless message was received from one of the fleet which left Oyster Bay on Saturday with the other envoys, that the vessels were nearing the Isle of Shoals and that the little fleet would anchor in the harbor just before 9:30 o'clock.

At an early hour the streets began to fill up, as the steam trains, trolley cars and private conveyances brought visitors from all parts of southeastern New Hampshire. The famous old sea-port was elaborately draped with flags and bunting, and presented an attractive appearance.

GUARD ENVOYS.

By 11 o'clock 1,200 members of the New Hampshire National Guard had arrived in the city. In the harbor the shipping had been dressed for the occasion while at the navy yard the last touch was given to make everything for the conference.

A considerable number of secret service men arrived this morning to aid in guarding the safety of the distinguished delegates to the conference.

The fleet was off the harbor entrance, shortly after 9 o'clock and it was but a few minutes after half past nine, when the vessels dropped anchor off the navy yard.

At the Hotel Wentworth, M. Witte got up early, beginning at once to prepare with Mr. Wilkenkin some dispatches to his government in answer to those which reached him during the night.

WANTS PEACE.

Speaking to a representative of the Associated Press he said he is more than ever animated by the desire of doing all in his power to conclude peace, but that, as has often been stated, all will depend on what Japan expects to obtain.

However, he will leave nothing unattempted to reach the desired object, and in case of failure, the world will judge on whom the responsibility shall rest.

Changing argument to conversation, M. Witte, who had been working up to then in his shirt sleeves, said that notwithstanding the beautiful scenery and the sea breeze he had felt pretty warm even here.

"I expected it would be cooler," he added.

M. Witte lunched in his own room, then dressed in a frock coat and vest to go aboard the Mayflower, accompanied to the boat landing by Mr. Wilkenkin and escorted by Mr. Moses, secretary to Governor McLane.

RUSSIAN FLAG.

At 11:10 o'clock a steam cutter flying the Russian flag came around Henderson's Point, and heading for the navy yard, was soon made fast to the decorated float moored to the sea wall, and M. Witte stepped out. He was formally greeted by the Rear-Admiral and his staff.

Another launch bearing Ambassador Rosen and party drew up and a similar greeting was extended to him.

As the party stepped ashore the saluting battery of the navy yard fired a salute of 19 guns.

SALUTE JAPANESE.

Immediately thereafter a steam cutter with the Japanese envoys hove in sight and the battery repeated its welcome, while the same form and presentation and greeting as had been given the Russians was extended by the officers to Baron Komura and Minister Takahira.

From the landing to the naval stores building over a straight gravel path, marines were drawn up on each side and through their lines the envoys marched to the scene of their further labors. The procession was led by Admiral Meade and M. Witte.

Once in the building the plenipotentiaries and their suites were assigned to their respective rooms.

The program as officially mapped out by Third Assistant Secretary of State Pierce, Rear-Admiral Meade, commandant of the Portsmouth navy yard and Governor McLane, for the official reception of the peace envoys, thus carried out without modification or hindrance.

AT BREAKFAST.

Shortly after noon the Rear-Admiral and the envoys entered the Albany Department Store Falls in Ruins About 300 Men, Women and Children.

Up to 2 o'clock the identified dead was Miss Bertha Cunningham. The number of dead is now generally estimated at from twenty to thirty.

Robert M. Chalmers, a member of the firm, was caught on the upper floors and went down with the debris. He was dug out from beneath a mass of plaster, beams and broken timbers. His right leg was broken and he was badly bruised.

ALBANY, August 8.—Three hundred persons employed in the large department store of John G. Meyers' estate at 32-41 North Pearl street had just gone to work this morning when the whole center of the building collapsed from roof to cellar.

Nearly a hundred men, girls and children were carried down in the wreck.

The first estimate placed the number of killed and injured at forty.

Up to 10:30 o'clock there had been taken from the ruins seventy-five persons, half of whom were seriously injured. The manager of the store at that time made the statement that there were fifty more underneath the ruins.

There is now absolutely no way to get tidings of those in the building. It will take several hours to dig out all of the victims.

Edward J. Horlne, one of the clerks at the men's furnishing counters, was among the fortunate ones to get out without a scratch. He assisted in removing about thirty girls to a neighboring store.

GIRLS FAINT.

"It all happened in a minute," said he. "I was engaged in getting my stock in shape and there were not half a dozen customers in the store at that time."

"I heard a roaring, tearing sound, and then the crash came. The shrieks that followed drowned out every other sound. Many of the girls sank behind their counters and had to be dragged out in a fainting condition."

The work of rescue was soon begun. Firemen and laborers worked with clerks and business and professional men, who had heard the crash on the way to their offices.

Every contractor who had men employed in the city suspended work and offered assistance, and within an hour after the building fell the laborers were arriving by the wagon load.

IMPRISONED ALIVE.

In the rear of the store a score of employees were found imprisoned in the cellar, where they had been thrown from the floors above.

Most of them recovered consciousness and several of them directed the work of rescue.

Thus far only one person has been taken out of the ruins who is not an employee. This is Mrs. Richard O. Bassett, wife of a well-known attorney. Her injuries are serious.

Her husband, whose office is near the store, had been working among the rescuers for an hour when she was found.

The wrecked portion of the building includes nearly one-half of the store. Scores of rescuers searching among the ruins up to 1:30 o'clock had brought out only twenty-five injured. Three of these died after reaching the hospitals. At that time 110 were unaccounted for, and it is certain that at least half of these are still beneath the mound of debris.

About 400 persons are on the firm's payroll, but some fifty of these are on their vacation.

Thirty-one persons who are said to have been buried in the ruins have been accounted for. So far as known all the injured are local people, except Mrs. William Borst, whose home is in New York, and Mrs. Minnie T. Westfall, who is in the field as a presidential candidate, said the statement was the merest rumor.

It was reported that District Attorney Beach desired to question Mrs. Beckman about the contents of a safe deposit box leased by her, which figured in bankruptcy proceedings against her last summer.

Strong efforts were made then on the part of her creditors to open the box, but her counsel prevented it by paying all claims against her.

WHO WILL GET THE VACANT JUDGESHIP?

T. W. Harris' Appointment to Succeed Judge Greene Would be Satisfactory to All Classes.

Speculation is naturally rife as to who will be appointed to succeed Judge Greene on the Superior Bench. While delicacy forbids aspirants from personally pushing their claims in advance of the funeral of the dead jurist, their respective friends are not idle.

The consensus of opinion among lawyers and politicians is in favor of T. W. Harris, Deputy District Attorney, who will be highly acceptable to the local bar.

It is pointed out that Mr. Harris is a strong friend of Governor Pardee's and did efficient though unobtrusive work in assisting the Governor to get the nomination. At the same time, he is on excellent terms with the element which has heretofore been antagonistic to the Governor's political advancement.

It is also conceded that the appointment of Harris would be approved throughout the county and exceptionally popular in Washington, Pleasanton, and Murray Townships.

The country districts have desired representation on the Superior Bench for many years, but have heretofore failed to get it. There is now an opportunity to gratify their wish without antagonizing any other section of the county, as Harris is well known and highly esteemed in Oakland. He has made an excellent record as Deputy District Attorney, and possesses in a marked degree the qualifications requisite for judicial office. He is deliberate in his judgments, a sound lawyer and a close student. He is as clear as a whistle personally and politically, and is in all respects a fair-minded, upright and conscientious man whose ability and attainments cannot be questioned.

Ex-Judge John Yule has some warm advocates. He is not so well known in politics as Mr. Harris nor so actively identified with the movement which placed Pardee in the gubernatorial chair, yet he is an excellent lawyer of high standing and a citizen of irreproachable character. He is a safe, conservative man.

The name of John Stetson, former Township Justice and now attorney for the State Lunacy Commission, has also been mentioned in connection with the appointment, but Mr. Stetson emphatically denies that he is a candidate, which narrows the choice up to this writing to Mr. Harris and Judge Yule. As before stated, popular opinion runs strongly toward Harris as the man the Governor will select.

JUDGE GEEENE IS CALLED BEFORE GREAT BAR

THE LATE JUDGE W. E. GREENE.

Eminent Jurist of This County is Summoned by Death After Lingering Illness.

Judge W. E. Greene, of the Superior Court of this county, died last evening at 7 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lathrop Jewett, 2944 Pierce street, San Francisco, in the sixty-eighth year of his age.

The end came suddenly, though not unexpectedly.

DISTINGUISHED MAN.

In the death of Judge Greene, the Bench of this State loses at once the Judge who had longest worn the ermine, and who was ranked among the most fearless, able and honest in the profession which he honored. For more than a quarter of a century, or to be more precise, for twenty-six years, Judge Greene officiated on the Bench of the Superior Court of Alameda county.

During that time there was no branch of law practice which had not come before him. There were few distinguished members of the Bar of this time who did not appear in his court, and there was no decision rendered by him which did not have its inspiration and support an exalted idea of honesty and justice, and a knowledge of law and precedent second to those of no other man in his calling in the State.

BORN IN MAINE.

Judge Greene was born November 14, 1836, at Farmington, Maine. He was of an old New England family of his name, many of whose descendants have attained prominence in professional life. His paternal grandfather and three granduncles and his great-grandfather and three great-granduncles rendered military services to the American Colonies during the Revolutionary War.

Graduating in 1863 from Bowdoin College with honor, and the degree of M. A., he immediately proceeded to California, arriving in San Francisco August 17 of that year, and at once accepted a position as instructor in Van Doren's Academy at Stockton. In December of the same year he resigned to devote himself to his chosen profession—the law—securing the appointment, as his successor, of his college friend, the late Thos. B. Reed, afterwards Speaker of the House of Representatives.

THE CIVIL WAR.

The Nation was still reeling by Civil War, and Judge Greene being a man of strong individuality and indomitable character, and an ardent Union man, was honored with a commission in the militia by Governor Low. In the fall of 1864 he "stumped" San Joaquin county for Abraham Lincoln. He was elected to the Legislature in 1865, and was one of the members of that body who participated in and voted for the enactment of the Thirteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States, abolishing slavery.

IN SAN JOAQUIN.

In the fall of 1867 he was nominated the Union men of San Joaquin county for the position of County Judge, to which he was elected for a term of four years, thus beginning his long judicial service on the bench of this State, which has covered a period of more than thirty-two years. In 1871 he was renominated by acclamation by the Union Republican County Convention to succeed himself, and was re-elected for another term of four years by a very large vote. He resigned this position in 1874 to assume control of an extensive mill and lumber business in the northern part of the State, in which he had become largely interested. Having closed out his interest in this business in 1875, he became a resident of Oakland, and resumed the practice of the law.

In 1879 he was elected Superior Judge of Alameda county upon the organization of that court under the new constitution, and has ever since continuously occupied that position, having been five times elected thereto. Of all the Judges who went upon the Superior Court Bench, of this State when that Court was first organized, only one other has continuously held that office to the present time. He has the distinction also of having to his credit more years of judicial service on the Bench of this State than any other Judge.

NATURALIZATION.

During his first term on the Superior Bench, Judge Greene inaugurated an innovation in the practice of indiscriminate naturalization of foreigners by subjecting applicants for citizenship to a general examination on the general character of our Government, and denying citizenship to those whom he found ignorant of its principles. His example has since been followed by some other Judges, and the sentiment thus created has had much influence in raising the standard by which the qualifications of aliens desiring the elective franchise are judged in this State.

During Judge Greene's long judicial career, much diverse, important and vexatious litigation with its new problems has been determined by him, and very few of his decisions have been reversed by the courts of last resort.

MANY FRIENDS.

While an ardent and consistent Republican in politics, he has always enjoyed the esteem of a host of friends in the Democracy, who have helped to return him repeatedly to the position from which he has been called.

GREAT COURAGE.

Judge Greene was a man of distinguished appearance, tall and powerfully built, and of great personal magnetism. He was undiminished in the courage of his convictions, and fearless in his decisions, into which his personal feelings never entered. His court was noted for its dignity and decorum, and for the rapidity with which he dispatched his business. When off the bench, his hearty geniality won for him many friends particularly among the young men, whose affection Judge Greene had the happy faculty of winning, and many of whom have had the favor of his counsel and advice.

Judge Greene was a great admirer of fine stock, and for many years his diversion has been the breeding of trotting horses, several of which have established fast records—one of his horses being the fastest four-year-old trotter on the Grand Circuit last year.

A MASON.

He was a member of the Masonic Fraternity, the Society of Sons of the American Revolution, and the National College Fraternity of D. K. E.

On many different occasions during his long judicial career, the public press has spoken in complimentary terms of the following traits of his character:

His strong individuality and dominance of character; the dignity and decorum with which his court was conducted.

His judicial ability, and the expeditious manner in which it was his custom to dispatch judicial business; his untiring industry.

The fearlessness and impartiality with which he performed his official duties without reference to friend or foe.

The uprightness and temperance of his private character.

The absolute trust of the Bar in his judicial integrity.

In 1889 Judge Greene married Isabel Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Webster, of Maplewood, Mass., and sister of R. H. Webster, ex-Superintendent of Schools of San Francisco. Mrs. Greene died in 1893. Four children survived, viz: Mrs. J. B. R. Cooper, of Monterey; Mrs. Lathrop W. Jewett, of San Francisco; Carlton W. Greene, attorney of San Francisco, and Lawrence L. Greene, at present Prosecuting Attorney of the Oakland Police Court.

Funeral services will be held at the First Congregational Church in San Francisco, corner of Mason and Post streets, Thursday afternoon at half past 2 o'clock.

RUN ON DENVER BANK

Savings Institution Said to Owe Depositors
$2,000,000.

DENVER, Colo., August 8.—A run was started on the Denver Savings Bank, which owes depositors about $2,000,000.

At noon the doors were closed and thereafter depositors were allowed to enter one at a time and draw ten per cent of their deposits.

The runs followed persistent rumors regarding the bank's stability which have been current for a week or ten days past.

The bank's public statement made July 3 was as follows: Resources, loans, $1,215,000; furniture and fixtures, $9,550; real estate, $37,973; bonds and stock, $320,232; demand loans, $199,554; due from other banks, $536,334; total, $2,378,236. Liabilities, capital stock, $350,000; surplus, $15,000; unpaid profits, $19,338; due depositors, $2,094,953. J. A. Hill is president and Carlos Wood cashier of the bank.

Vice-President S. T. Jones says the run came without any intimation when the doors opened this morning.

"In what condition is the bank," was asked.

"Very good, but there is no telling where a thing of this kind will stop. I thought it wise to enforce the ten per cent rule, and the depositors and the bank will be protected to the full extent of our power."

WAY TO "EASE THE MIND."

"I write lots of letters that I never mail," said a Kansas City woman to a friend recently. "What do I do with them? I tear them up. I write them simply to get things I want to say off my mind. For instance, if the butcher has sent me a mediocre steak and I feel better. Next I tear the letter up. The butcher gets his steak back and knows he was careless. He sends another one and I am more careful next time. He didn't need the calling down, but I needed to get rid of it. Every once in a while I sit down and write notes to people telling them exactly what I think of them. When I get the letter back I tear it up. I write the notes and destroy them and I am relieved. That is the way I keep people liking me. I don't think of them and have the satisfaction that comes from saying it, but it never reaches them or anybody else."—Kansas City Times.

DALTON ANSWERS SEVEN SET QUESTIONS

Gives a Straight Answer to the Points Brought Out by a Chronicle Man.

(San Francisco Chronicle.)

OAKLAND, August 7.—A representative of the "Chronicle" handed to Assessor Dalton today a list of seven typewritten questions, assuring the Assessor that if he would answer the questions in writing over his signature the answers would be printed. After examining them Dalton answered them over his signature. The questions and answers follow:

Question—Are you positive that the bills as certified to by yourself are correct, i. e., would you swear that the supplies billed for were delivered to and used by your office? Answer—I am positive that the bills as certified to by me are correct.

Q.—Was Hasse ever in a position to demand, because of his knowledge of your methods, that you give or secure him a position with the county? A.—No. I have not at any time given employment to Mr. Hasse. Neither has Mr. Hasse had employment by the county to my knowledge. No person ever has been nor is in a position to demand and secure from me a position by reason of his knowledge of my "methods in office" or out of office.

Q.—Have you ever purchased anything from the Central News Company, the amount of which was later billed to your office as stationery? A.—No.

Q.—It is stated by the Board of Equalizers that your office never turned over the personal property rolls to them. Is this so, and if so, for what reason? A.—The assessment roll was turned over to the clerk of the Board of Equalization on July 22d, within the time required by law.

Q.—Was there ever any check kept on the supplies delivered to your office? If so, by whom? A.—Unfortunately, no; but those paying county bills should reject any and all bills and subdivisions of bills purporting to be for supplies furnished any county board or officer not having a special indorsement thereon as to its correctness. I inquired into the correctness of every item before placing an "O. K." on the bills.

Q.—Are you satisfied that Hasse was perfectly honest in his dealings with the county, as clerk in a county office, or as acting manager of the Central News Company? A.—Mr. Hasse has never filled a position of clerk in any county office to my knowledge. I have always considered him honest.

Q.—Is it a fact that you have purchased articles of luxury to be used as presents to women, which were paid for by the county under the guise of stationery and supplies? A.—No. I have never purchased articles of luxury for the use of women at any time, nor have I ever had any articles charged to the county under the guise of stationery or supplies of any kind.

(Signed) HENRY P. DALTON.

Barber, Under Sheriff J. J. Hanifan Jr., Jailor H. A. Clark, Superintendent of Schools T. O. Crawford, Deputy Superintendent of Schools Miss Eva Crawford, Recorder A. K. UNION PICNIC GREAT CONTRACT DISCUSSED TO BE LET

COMMITTEE IS MAKING PLANS FOR LABOR DAY OUT-ING.

A voluminous report from the committee in charge of the Labor Day picnic of the union are to be discussed at the meeting of the Central Labor Council last night. It has been decided to have an excursion to Sastro Park, Fruitvale, with many special features.

C. E. Schmidt, the first vice president of the union, will be in charge of the picnic. He is down for an address. There will also be a talk by Richard Cornelius of San Francisco, who is a member of the general executive board of the International Association of Street Railway Employees. Other prominent men in unionism will be present.

The usual program of games, races and athletic contests will be rendered. Several of the unions are to furnish teams for a tug-of-war for a cash prize. Already the lumber handlers and the painters' local No. 70 have entered the contest. Entries must be made before September 3.

The committee which represents the council at the meetings of the Japanese, Chinese and Korean Exclusion League reported last night of the business before the session. Some Japanese on Seventh street have applied for a liquor license. Others are forming a combine for the purpose of starting a Japanese bank in Oakland.

A communication from the American Federation of Labor was received stating that one of the standard brands of cocoa is made by non-union labor.

One delegate from the last night, James A. Parsons, from the box and cabinet workers.

TRAILORS MEET.

Votes were cast last night for international treasurer by the members of the Oakland local of tailors. The choice of the union was Frederick Warner, who received twenty-seven votes on the second ballot. N. S. Olson got twenty, and Gus Winkler, eight. Eight blank ballots were recorded.

At the first ballot no candidate received enough to secure election. The names of A. A. Larson, Joseph Weidner and George Woretz were thrown out for not having been in the room for the least number.

There was a good deal of discussion about the methods of certain firms in town which "suck" the business before they work out of town to be done by those who work in the town. A good positive proof secured against any one.

MAKES PROFIT.

At the session of the directors of the Co-operative Meat Company, yesterday afternoon, it was decided to start a new history a profit had been made by the corporation.

The month of July the sum of $222.10 was made over and above all expenses. The organization is on its feet.

percentage for the stockholders from now on.

The reason for the previous deficit was the expense of buying fixtures, storehouses and other buildings. The debts are now almost all paid off and the experiment of the union men has proved a success.

The salaries of some of the officers were raised and donations made for enlarging the business as fast as convenient.

TO LECTURE.

Socialist speakers are to talk at the headquarters of the Building Trades Council, next Friday evening. Among those who will speak are Fred Siebert, C. A. Johnson, George Speed and George O'Hanrahan.

NO CHANGE IN STRIKE.

ST. PAUL, August 8.—There is no change in the claims made by the countering steel and iron manufacturers.

Attorney General Dickson has closed the investigation ordered by Attorney Moody. Mr. Dickson declined to state what the investigation had disclosed.

COURTS ADJOURN IN HONOR OF JUDGE GREENE

Members of the Bar to Meet and Pass Suitable
Resolutions.

An adjournment of the Superior Courts was taken this morning out of respect to the memory of Judge W. E. Greene, and the Bar Association met in Department 5, which was Judge Greene's department, and leaving his seat vacant, court was called to order. Seated on the bench were Judges John Ellsworth, B. F. Ogden, Henry Melvin, W. H. Waste and Judge E. C. Hart of Sacramento, who happened to be present and was asked to take a seat with the other judges.

The proceedings were then opened by Judge Ellsworth, who said: "Gentlemen of the Bar, I suppose you all know for what purpose we have met here. We have received the sad tidings of the death of Judge Greene, the senior member of this Court, who has been for many years a Judge of this Court, ever since it was organized under the constitution of this State. After a long and distinguished career, he passed away about 7 o'clock last evening.

"The feeling of the Judges is that this Court ought to adjourn, out of respect to him who has so long been a member of this Court, and who has distinguished himself in a long career on the bench for his ability and integrity. We should be glad to hear a motion from some member of the Bar."

ATTORNEY REED.

Attorney Geo. W. Reed—"If your Honors please: As already announced by Judge Ellsworth, we have received the sad tidings that Judge Greene has been taken away from his association with your gentlemen and from his long and distinguished career on the Bench of this county. I think it is very fitting and proper that this very meeting should adjourn out of respect to his memory, for the long and distinguished career which he has rendered to the people of this county.

"It is a very sad duty which I have to perform, formally to announce to the Court the passing away of Judge Greene. He will be missed by his associates, by the members of the Bar, and by the people of this community. He has rendered very distinguished services to the people of this county, and his long and honorable career on the bench has endeared him to the members of the bar, to his associates and to the people in general.

COURT ADJOURNS.

"Without making any extended remarks at this time, I will now move your Honor that all the Departments of this Court adjourn until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, at which time it is the purpose of the members of the Bar and the Bar Association to meet in this courtroom, at which meeting suitable resolutions of respect to his memory. I now move your Honors that the Court adjourn until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock."

RESOLUTIONS.

Judge Ellsworth—"The Court will grant that motion. Tomorrow morning at the meeting of the Bar I apprehend there will be suitable resolutions of respect offered, and such proceedings as are proper in this case. The motion for adjournment is granted. The Court adjourns until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, out of respect to Judge Greene. I suggest that the meeting be in this courtroom."

Mr. Reed—"The meeting will take place in this courtroom. I will ask your Honor to announce to the members of the Bar here present, or to do it, that the Bar of this county will meet in Judge Waste's courtroom tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock."

POLICE COURTS.

Both departments of the Police Court this morning adjourned in honor of the late Superior Judge W. E. Greene. In making a motion for adjournment, the Police Court adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, out of respect to Judge Greene. This consideration is due him from the length of his honorable service on the bench. His long career as a jurist will always be a shining page in the annals of the State of California.

It is from the fact that we knew him as a just and upright judge, there is another reason that we should adjourn out of respect to his memory. —E. W. S.

Prosecuting Attorney Lawrence Greene, is an officer of this court, and I believe that we should show to the son who has lost a much-beloved father that we sincerely console with him in his grief.

Judge Smith granted the motion and ordered that a proper note of it be made on the minutes of the court. Deputy District Attorney Goodfellow made a similar motion before Police Judge Samuels. He said: "I am grieved to call the attention of the Court to the fact that an emunged member of the bar and an honored Judge of our Superior Court has been called to his final rest. It is but fitting that this court should show respect by adjourning in memory of the late W. E. Greene, Judge of the Superior Court. I make the motion that when this court adjourns that it adjourn out of respect to Judge Greene."

EDUCATION WINS.

On a warm and sultry day two tramps were playing a game of poker behind a haystack. One of them dealt. "What are you going to bet?" he asked the other.

"I've got a pretty good hand, so I'll open the jackpot for a hundred dollars."

"All right, I'll see that and raise you a thousand."

"Good! I'll just make it a billion dollars."

"I'll see your billion and just to make it interesting, I'll raise you a trillion dollars."

"When! you must have a good hand. But I'll stay and go you just a quadrillion better."

"That suits me. I'll make it a quintillion better than yours."

The other tramp hesitated and looked at his cards intently. Finally he said: "The pot is your. You win on education."—Judge.

MARCONI MID-OCEAN WIRELESS DAILY NEWSPAPER

A Giant On Its First Birthday

The numerous requests we are receiving from our customers, the general public and the press for copies of the MID-OCEAN DAILY exceeds by far the supply that we can secure from the Atlantic Liners, who print only a few thousand, just sufficient on each trip for the use of their passengers. So as to satisfy the interest aroused by a feat which, a few years ago, would have been considered miraculous or even impossible, as well as to commemorate the first birthday of the ocean newspaper, we have had 20,000 copies printed reproducing one of the news pages of each day of an early edition throughout a trip across the Atlantic.

The MID-OCEAN DAILY is a 24-page newspaper containing two pages of wireless telegraphic news, ten pages of editorials, ship's news, smoke-room gossip and general reading matter and twelve pages of advertisements of hotels, railroads, steamship connections, as well as of business firms dealing in commodities or specialties such as trunks, jewelry, champagnes, cigars, etc.

The MID-OCEAN DAILY is now a permanent fixture on board of all the leading steamships. It has been so much improved during its first year that the "New York World," commenting on it in an editorial of May 28th, says: "As disclosed by a perusal of the OCEAN DAILY on the last trip of the 'Campania,' the news dispatches were more numerous and complete than in many newspapers published ashore."

This branch of the Marconi System is proving a very profitable source of revenue, which bids fair within a short time to return several hundred thousand dollars annually to the stockholders of the Marconi Company. The Marconi System has a practical monopoly of the wireless business on the Atlantic. The news is received every day throughout the trip, not only from the various Marconi Stations in both England and America, but also from other steamers up to a distance of 2,000 miles, on the American Line the OCEAN DAILY is called "The Trans-Atlantic American" on the Red Star Line, "The Red Star News," etc., etc.

By means of the new Marconi magnetic detector and transmitter over one hundred words a minute can be flashed, which is three or four times the speed of the ordinary telegraph or cable, while the cost per word is less than half the cable rate.

By contract with the Western Union and Postal Telegraph Companies Marconi messages for passengers at sea can now be sent from any of their 50,000 offices in the United States and Canada.

Marconi Securities offer a splendid opportunity for a safe and profitable investment. If interested, send for our free 16-page ILLUSTRATED pamphlet containing complete information on the Marconi Company, the Marconi System, its uses, field of operation, record of achievements, marine service, list of over 400 stations (revised to date) in commercial operation all over the world, and showing its earnings and enormous profits. We receive subscriptions for cash or on installments. Don't delay but investigate at once.

IO HURT IN TRAIN ACCIDENT

Switch Engine Crashes
Into Cars on Santa Fe.

EMPORIA, Kas., August 8.—A way car attached to the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe stock train standing on the tracks here early today was demolished in a collision and ten persons injured. A. N. Sanders, a Blodgett, Mo. stockman, received probably fatal injuries.

The stock train was too heavily laden and a stop had been made to take out six cars. A switch engine, whose crew was making up the train, crashed into the way car, wrecking it badly. The stockmen in the car were asleep at the time. The injured were taken to the railway hospital at Emporia.

Between the mountains of India and Persia is a powerful tribe among whom an extraordinary custom prevails. Women's rights have apparently received full recognition, for the ladies of the tribe can choose their own husbands. All a single woman has to do when she wishes to change her state is to send a servant to pin a handkerchief to the hat of a man on whom her fancy lights, and he is obliged to marry her, unless he can show that he is too poor to purchase her at the price her father requires.

WASHINGTON, August 8.—The Isthmian Canal Commission today received a cablegram from Governor Magoon announcing the death of A. G. Livingston, a division engineer at Culebra, from fever. Livingston was from St. Louis, Mo.

Two new cases of yellow fever were reported, Juan Barrero, a Spanish non-employee at Panama and William Curmow, an American employee at Culebra.

NEW ORLEANS, August 8.—Reports from the bedside of Archbishop Chappelle, who is ill with yellow fever, today, were to the effect that the venerable prelate was about holding his own, with the physicians unable to predict with confidence the outcome of the attack upon him.

REGATTA OF ROYAL YACHT SQUADRON

QOWES, Isle of Wight, August 8.—The regatta of the royal yacht squadron occurred today. The chief event was the race for King Edward's cup. Almost as great interest, however, centered in the race for 52 footers, which resulted in a victory for the Herresford built boat Sonya. The winner was followed in by the Morana, the Britomart, the Maymon and the Gauntlet in the order named.

TRAINING SHIP GOES ASHORE

MACKINAW CITY, Mich., August 8.—The U. S. S. Dorotha, the training ship of the Illinois naval reserves, which is on her annual cruise, went ashore early today at Old Point Mackinaw. The steamer is heavily listed to starboard and is thought to be badly damaged. The Dorotha is lying within 450 feet of the beach.

There was no material change in the fever situation in New Orleans up to noon today. The number of new cases and deaths was small, but considerable suspicious sickness was reported. There are now 32 cases of this nature under investigation by the marine hospital service. The weather in New Orleans is clear and warm.

NEW ORLEANS, August 8.—Some probability exists that shortly there will be considerable relaxation of quarantine restrictions in Louisiana. Governor Blanchard is urging President Souchon, of the State Board of Health, to take steps toward that end, and Dr. Spuchon's energy in the matter is already beginning to show result. His intimation of litigation in St. Landry having so modified the quarantine in that parish, that it is to be opened to all freight forwarded in fumigated cars.

Governor Blanchard says he is receiving complaints of suffering from many parts of the State. Medicines, ice, coal and many other necessities, are wanted, and there is a demand everywhere for mail service.

The marine hospital service is to send representatives to attend the conference of health boards to explain the mosquito theory, to show that the mosquito cannot be transmitted by freight and to urge uniformity in the quarantine regulations.

MAKES APPEAL.
An appeal has been sent by President Goucheaux and Secretary Mayo, of the Progressive Union, to the managing editors of leading newspapers, asking them to guard their columns against alarmist reports and grotesque exaggeration of the situation here.

No complaint is made against the publication of the facts of the local conditions, but it is not desired that false ideas of the situation should be spread broadcast.

Full confidence is expressed in the ability of the Federal Government to stamp out the disease before frost.

The general situation so far as the fever itself is concerned is considered to have shown considerable improvement. Although new foci are appearing, they are being kept within bounds. Dr. White regards this as showing practical results of the perfect organization formed.

ROOSEVELT'S VIEW COMPLETE PLANS ON INSURANCE FOR FAIR

PRESIDENT FAVORS FEDERAL SUPERVISION—COMMITTEE REPORT.

OMAHA, Neb., August 8.—Ralph W. Breckenridge of Omaha, chairman of the committee on insurance of the American Bar Association, has completed the report of the committee, which is to be presented to the annual convention at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., which will be held August 23 to 25. The report makes five specific recommendations, as follows:

Legislation by Congress providing for the supervision of insurance. The repeal of all existing policy laws, a uniform fire policy, the term of which will be specifically defined, the repeal of all retaliatory tax laws and stricter incorporation laws in the several states as they affect the creation of insurance companies, and a general statute prohibiting the use of force by any association or corporation transacting the business of insurance in disregard of State or Federal regulations.

President Roosevelt is quoted as having said to the committee that he is very much in favor of Federal supervision of insurance.

W. R. Vance of Virginia, a member of the committee, is expected to present a minority report, in which he will differ with the majority on its general findings, but on the proposition that there is no constitutional obstacle existing to the inauguration of the Federal supervision of the insurance business.

SAN LEANDRO, August 8.—From all appearances the coming circus and street fair at San Leandro is to be one of the most successful of recent years. The work of stringing up the electric lights is nearly completed, and they will make a beautiful appearance when lighted. The large ball grounds, where the circus is to be held, are laid out skillfully in order to give the most space possible for the circulation of the crowds. Everything has been arranged to subserve to the safety and comfort of the guests of the town and of the Native Sons, who are giving the affair.

The show will open next Thursday with a grand street parade in the evening. It will be followed by the opening literary exercises when Governor Pardee is expected to speak. Congressman Knowland also is to assist in making the visitors welcome.

NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR BOYCOTT

PEKIN, August 8.—The correspondent of the Associated Press is informed that there is no foundation for the statement circulated in the United States that the Chinese government is responsible for the boycott of American goods in China. It is learned that the Chinese foreign board is no nearer a settlement of the convention excluding certain classes of Chinese from the United States. The correspondent is also informed that the note addressed by the Chinese government to the United States, French and American governments, seeking representation in the peace conference caused considerable annoyance to the United States and that the Chinese government subsequently conveyed its regrets unofficially expressed the hope that Japan would not manifest its hostility, which it was explained was perfectly friendly.

ROOSEVELT'S VIEW COMPLETE PLANS ON INSURANCE FOR FAIR

PRESIDENT FAVORS FEDERAL SUPERVISION—COMMITTEE REPORT.

OMAHA, Neb., August 8.—Ralph W. Breckenridge of Omaha, chairman of the committee on insurance of the American Bar Association, has completed the report of the committee, which is to be presented to the annual convention at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., which will be held August 23 to 25. The report makes five specific recommendations, as follows:

Legislation by Congress providing for the supervision of insurance. The repeal of all existing policy laws, a uniform fire policy, the term of which will be specifically defined, the repeal of all retaliatory tax laws and stricter incorporation laws in the several states as they affect the creation of insurance companies, and a general statute prohibiting the use of force by any association or corporation transacting the business of insurance in disregard of State or Federal regulations.

President Roosevelt is quoted as having said to the committee that he is very much in favor of Federal supervision of insurance.

W. R. Vance of Virginia, a member of the committee, is expected to present a minority report, in which he will differ with the majority on its general findings, but on the proposition that there is no constitutional obstacle existing to the inauguration of the Federal supervision of the insurance business.

SAN LEANDRO, August 8.—From all appearances the coming circus and street fair at San Leandro is to be one of the most successful of recent years. The work of stringing up the electric lights is nearly completed, and they will make a beautiful appearance when lighted. The large ball grounds, where the circus is to be held, are laid out skillfully in order to give the most space possible for the circulation of the crowds. Everything has been arranged to subserve to the safety and comfort of the guests of the town and of the Native Sons, who are giving the affair.

MRS. STEPHENSON SEES CHINESE HUSBAND'S BODY INCREASE BOYCOTT

Breaks Down When She Sees Remains of the Man She Wronged.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—"For God's sake, Will, forgive me! I'm alone!"

There were the penitent words that Lucy Florence Stephenson moaned today as, shaken with bitter sobbing, she flung herself across the dead body of the husband she had dishonored and her paramour had killed. The brazen manner with which she has faced the world since the tragedy of her husband's death made known her shame fell from her like a garment when she looked into the cold face of the man whose name she bore, and she broke down completely in a passion of repentance. As she left the little room in Gray's undertaking parlors on Van Ness avenue where the remains lay, she sank unconscious and Sergeant Tobin was obliged to carry her downstairs.

This morning the woman expressed a desire to see her husband before he was taken to Reno, Nevada, where he is to be buried. Her wish was expressed in such a way that it was believed that she merely desired to fulfill one of the formal duties which she still recognized she owed society. Underneath the callous surface, however, there was genuine grief and remorse for the deed which she had brought about.

Mrs. Stephenson is not an attractive woman. As she sat beside Sergeant Tobin, who had taken her to the undertakers, without a word to any one she looked like some dowdy little country mouse. She was obliged to wait some time before she could see her husband, but she made no inquiries and urged no haste.

The body, with face still powdered, marked where Bowen's bullet had entered the chin, lay in a small chamber at the head of the stairs. When Mrs. Stephenson was shown in she threw herself across the bier, sobbing out wild and broken sentences as though her voice could reach the dead man across the gulf of time. "Oh, Will, my dear, for God's sake forgive me. Will, I'm alone. I'm all alone!"

BOWEN IS ARRANGED.
Chillon Bowen, the man who wrecked the home of his best friend and then shot him dead, was arraigned on a charge of murder before Judge Fritz this morning. His attorneys, Gallagher and Ford, objected strenuously to a continuance of the preliminary hearing, but in spite of their protest the matter was continued after the adjournment of the court until next Friday morning.

On behalf of Lucy Florence Stephenson, Gallagher announced that he would institute habeas corpus proceedings at once, in the event of his threat being made good the police will look her as an accessory to the crime, if only to secure her attendance in court as a witness against her lover. The coroner's inquest will not be held until some day next week, as it will be impossible for the coroner to secure all of the witnesses he desires before that time.

Neither Bowen nor the woman who led to the commission of this crime were as volatile this morning as on the day of their arrest. Then they were willing and anxious to tell all they could of their unholy love affair, and of the wanton killing of the man who had journeyed from Nevada to rescue his wife and the mother of his four little ones.

ASKS TO SEE BODY.
While Bowen was being arraigned in court this morning Mrs. Stephenson requested that she be permitted to go to the undertaking parlors that she might be permitted to see the body of her murdered husband. Even when making this request there was no show of feeling on her part. What prompted her to make the request may never be known, but she said to Sergeant Tobin, the prison keeper, "Well, I guess I ought to go out. Before being taken to the undertaking parlors she visited the office of Captain Burnett and there signed an order authorizing the Coroner to use the money found on the dead man's person to defray the funeral expenses. The body will be shipped to Reno for interment this afternoon.

AN UNWELCOME VISITOR.
A visitor whom Mrs. Stephenson expressed no anxiety to see called upon her at the prison this morning. His name was George Prater, the man who owns the ranch occupied by the Stephensons, and for whom Stephenson worked for seven years. He upbraided her for the manner in which she had mistreated her husband; for the cruel manner in which she had defamed his memory; for her shameless conduct toward her fatherless little ones, and the betrayal of the confidence imposed in her by her friends. Even this attack upon the woman, who seems to be dead to all sense of shame, did not move her. She listened in silence to the denunciation of her husband's friends. There could be no possible defense for her actions, and she attempted none.

"The man whom she has wronged, and whose body now lies at the morgue," said Prater, after he left the woman in the jail, "was one of nature's noblemen. He had no money, but he did have a large family to care for, and he did it uncomplainingly for years. When it became necessary for his wife to come here to be operated upon, I advanced him $500 to pay her expenses, and this is the way she has repaid his kindness to her. Up there on their little ranch in Nevada are four children, fatherless and worse than motherless. I do not know what will become of them now."

"Stephenson worked for me for seven years, and a better man I never knew. Before coming down here he came to me and told me what he suspected, and said that he was coming down to investigate. I gave him the money that was found on him by the police. I tried to dissuade him from coming, but could not, and now he has been ruined for life."

Prater is a resident of Reno, Nev., and is well known in that section of the country. It was his purpose to arrange for the funeral of his former friend and he will accompany the body back to Nevada.

The police are convinced by the letters from Bowen found among the personal effects of Mrs. Stephenson, and now held at the University of Amsterdam, Jonker E. De Marsse van Swinderen, Minister-at Washington, has been appointed minister of foreign affairs.

JUST CRACK A JOKE
AND WHISTLE UP A SONG.
With apologies to Rudyard Kipling by "The Major."

When the road your feet is treadin'
Keeps a crookin' a-a spreadin',
Till it seems as if it's most uncommon
Long.

Don't let your chin lip quiver,
Though your knees be all a-shiver,
Just crack a joke and whistle up a song.
When the clouds begin to thicken,
And the lightning a-fashin' and a-flickin',
Like Lucifer, gone wrong,
Raise your feet a little higher
And step a little spryer,
And crack a joke and whistle up a song.

Don't forget it for a minute
That other folks are in it,
As deep as you may be and not as strong.
And when they're a-gettin' weary,
It will make them chink and cheery,
Just to crack a joke and whistle up a song.

And when your journey's ended,
And your soul stands underfended,
While recording angels foot up columns
Long.

You will find your head was level,
That you jokin' and whistling up a song.
By your jokin' and whistling up a song.

MONKEYS AT PLAY.
"Nothing is more instructive," says John Lover, the Philadelphia Zoo keeper, "than to watch young monkeys at play. These interesting creatures investigate everything with insatiable curiosity. They do things starting with to convince me that they have almost human minds. I had in India a young monkey that learned to put the key in the lock and unlock the chain that fastened it to a pole. Near this monkey there always lay a brush with a handle that unscrewed. In the monkey learned to unscrew the handle and then screw it on again. A friend of mine in Kensington had a monkey that he kept chained just out of reach of the henth fire. This monkey learned to tear strips from newspapers, roll them into long tapers and light them in the flames."

BABY IS HURT IN RUNAWAY

Mother Tosses Child From Rig to Arms of Bystander.

BERKELEY, Aug. 8.—The infant child of Mrs. J. P. Christiansen was severely injured Sunday afternoon while its mother was endeavoring to stop a runaway horse, attached to the carriage in which both mother and child were riding.

Only the bravery and quick wit of two men, who rushed to the rescue of the terrified woman saved them both from death.

Mrs. Christiansen was obliged to toss her baby to one of these two men, Emory Myers, in order to save it from what appeared like sudden death. The child was caught by the man, but was bruised and internally injured by the experience.

Mrs. Christiansen was riding with her husband, and the harness becoming disarranged, Mr. Christiansen got out to adjust it. The horse was restless, and when the woman accidentally dropped the lines the animal became frantic and dashed down the street.

For four blocks the horse galloped along Adelphi street, and spectators expected every moment to see the woman and child dashed heading from the buggy. The two men, Walter Eimer and Emory Myers, faced death themselves by standing in front of the animal, grasping the bit and practically stopping the frantic animal.

The mother tossed the child to one of the men and continued in the buggy herself for a block further.

A Berkeley physician came upon the scene at this juncture with his automobile and took the woman and child to his office where they were given attention.

BURGLARS AT WORK NEAR JAIL

Break into a Store a Block
From City
Prison.

Burglars broke into the store conducted by Mrs. Annie Morgan, 563 Fourteenth street, a block from the City Hall, last night and stole a quantity of antique jewelry from the show window.

Mrs. Morgan left the jewelry in the window principally as an advertisement for the store, and the setting always attracted attention.

The thieves last night entered the store through a rear window some time between 5:30 o'clock in the evening and 8 o'clock this morning.

A search was made for money by the burglars, but they were disappointed. Attention was then paid to the show window and all of the jewelry taken.

The stolen property consisted of a garnet bracelet, a scarabe bracelet, a silver and gold necklace, an Indian pin, two Scotch pebble bracelets, a mosaic pin, a butterfly set in gold, a large cameo and other pieces of small jewelry.

Detectives have been detailed on the case and have hopes of recovering the jewelry.

CAPT. FOSTER IS DEAD

MASTER OF THE SOLANO PASSES AWAY AT LIVERMORE.

LIVERMORE, August 8.—Captain Edward Foster died at Livermore this morning from old age and a complication of diseases. He was born in New York State seventy-six years ago. He came to California in 1859.

For the past twenty years he was connected with the Southern Pacific Company as captain on the ferry boat "Solano," the largest ferry boat in the world, which carries trains from Port Costa to Benicia on the line of the Southern Pacific Company.

He leaves six children to mourn his loss, Arthur, Edward, Annie and Elizabeth Foster, Mrs. D. W. Van Alstyne, and Mrs. H. Osborne. Mrs. Foster died some years ago.

The funeral of the deceased will take place here on Thursday, interment being in Masonic Cemetery.

SAY MAN ABUSED HIS MOTHER

ALAMEDA, August 8.—W. F. Burns of Santa Clara avenue, a local painter, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of drunkenness and for disturbing the peace. Burns was taken into custody by Patrolman Anderson, who says that he found him at the home of his mother, Mrs. J. H. De Nise, whom he was abusing while drunk.

The charge of drunkenness was investigated by Judge Tappan and Burns pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace and will come up for sentence tomorrow morning. Burns has been before the court on a similar charge before, and has been warned that other offenses would receive severe punishment.

Any member of the Oakland Board of Trade who expects to be in Portland on or about August 16 to 19 or August 31 to 34 will confer a favor by notifying the secretary of the Oakland Board of Trade of such fact.

MAJOR CLAY LIES IN THE TOMB

SIMPLE FUNERAL OF DECEASED
HELD AT FAMILY HOME IN FRUITVALE.

The funeral of the late Major Clement Clay, of the music firm of Sherman, Clay & Co., of San Francisco, Oakland and other cities on the Pacific Coast, took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family home, East Fourteenth street, near Twenty-eighth Avenue, Level Lea, Fruitvale. It was attended by a number of intimate personal friends of the family, and deceased, as also by attaches of the business houses with the management of which the deceased had been so long connected.

The remains lay in a massive casket in the main parlor of the home. There was almost an utter absence of flowers, the exceptions comprising tender mementoes from the members of the bereaved family only.

This absence of floral tributes was occasioned by a deferential regard on the part of friends for the request of the family of the deceased that floral offerings be omitted, a request which was based upon the known wishes of the deceased in life.

The services were simple and impressive in the extreme, there being no eulogy of the departed by the officiating clergymen, Rev. H. L. Boardman, pastor of the Tenth Avenue Baptist Church of this city and Rev. Dr. Robertson of the Southern Methodist Episcopal Church of Alameda.

Vocal musical selections were rendered by the Oakland Masonic Quartet, comprising Alfred Wilkie, D. L. Lawrence, H. W. Patrick and Wilhelm Nielsen. The selections were by request and comprised "Beulah Land," "Crossing the Bar" and "Good Night." The pall-bearers were J. Plaw and George Shreve of Oakland; L. S. Sherman, L. Georges, L. F. Geissler and Dr. L. L. Dunbar of San Francisco.

Interment was in Mountain View cemetery and was conducted in private.

ESCAPED YOUTH CAPTURED

One of the boy escapes from the Preston School of Industry at Ione was captured this morning by Constable Harry Cramer of Brooklyn township on a ferry-boat going from here to San Francisco. Since the 14th of August he has been wandering about the country and says that he has walked eighty miles. He gave his name as Fred Grant when he was taken into custody, but after a time confessed that he was Glenn Blood, and that he broke away from the institution in company with Adrian Heller and Charles Spencer.

He says that he is 24 years of age, although he looks much younger, and says that they left the institution because they beat him. He says that if they break any rules they have to lay over a table and are given forty of fifty lashes with a broad piece of leather with holes in it. He has little love for the institution and said that they finally made up their minds to break out. They removed some screws from the bars of their room, and then making some ropes of their bedding they slid to the ground one evening and by daylight the next morning were miles away.

They separated after a time, and he states that he does not know where his companions are. He was still wearing the uniform when they were at the institution with the buttons cut off. Constable Cramer had the printed circular with a description of the runaways and took him from this recognized Blood and took him into custody. There is $50 reward offered for the capture, which Cramer will be able to collect.

SAYS POUNDMASTER IS INSULTING

BERKELEY, August 8.—Complaint was made to the Town Trustees last night by Mrs. F. T. Williamson of 2015 Elsie street that she was insulted and mistreated by Poundmaster Ryan yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Williamson declares that she was obliged to defend her pet dog from Ryan, who attempted to capture the animal, although the dog wore a license tag, which was plainly visible. The poundmaster is said to have been insulting and overbearing in his action, having injured the dog before releasing it.

The Town Trustees have received several complaints of a similar character relating to Ryan, and it was semi-officially announced that the latter charge would result in the appointing of a new poundmaster.

TAGGART CASE IS CONTINUED

WOOSTER, Ohio, August 8.—Owing to the illness of James Sterling, counsel for plaintiff, the divorce case of Taggart vs. Taggart was delayed today. Dr. D. L. Youm appeared before Judge Eason and stated that Sterling was too ill to arrive at least before noon. The court announced an adjournment to 1 p. m., adding that the case must go on at that time if it became necessary for some other attorney to take Sterling's place.

FORFEITS BAIL.

Morris Springer, accused of driving a horse cruelly, this morning forfeited $19 bail in preference to standing trial on the charge before Police Judge Samuel Heald. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Herold, who is an officer of the Humane Society.

CITY IS DENIED A NEW TRIAL

Water Rate Case Now
Goes to the Supreme Court.

The attorneys in the case of the Contra Costa Water Company against the City of Oakland involving the water rates fixed by the Council for the year 1901, have completed the settlement and engrossing of the defendants' bill of exceptions on motion for a new trial.

This morning notice of substitution of attorneys was served upon J. E. McElroy, City Attorney, whereby John Garber and Garrett W. McEnery were substituted in place of the former attorneys for the Contra Costa Water Company, who were of the firm of Page, McCutcheon, Harding & Knight, of San Francisco.

The order was also made substituting a member of the present City Council for defendants in the action in place and grand of a member of the last City Council.

It was stated by the Council for the Contra Costa Water Company that the bill of exceptions as presented by Judge E. C. Hart of Sacramento, was correct in every particular, and thereupon Judge Hart approved and settled the bill of exceptions. The bill of exceptions consists of ten volumes, and contains some four thousand typewritten pages.

J. E. McElroy, City Attorney, and Carl H. Abbott, special counsel, presented the motion for a new trial to Judge Hart, with the request that Judge Hart inform the attorneys whether or not he desired argument upon the questions involved, and if so to set a day for the hearing of the argument, at which time the counsel for the defendants would be prepared to argue the motion at length.

Judge Hart stated that the trial of the case had consumed many months, and that he was perfectly familiar with the facts in the case, and that as the case had been fully argued before during the trial of the action and for several days thereafter and preceding his decision in the action, he saw no reason why he should at this time disturb his former decision. Thereupon he denied the motion of defendants for a new trial.

Again the Council for the City of Oakland caused an exception to the rule of the court to be taken.

John Garber and Garrett McEnery appeared as attorneys for the Contra Costa Water Company at the hearing of the motion.

The matter will now be passed upon by the Supreme Court.

TO SWEEP STREETS WITH WATER

At the meeting of the Board of Works tomorrow there will be a proposal to sweep the streets of the city by water, as is done in a portion of San Francisco and St. Louis. The machine used throws a powerful stream of water which effectively washes away all waste matter into the gutter. These machines cost $1500 each.

Councilman William Bacus and family are taking a vacation of a week at Los Gatos.

STORY OF AN INVENTION.

In a recently published autobiography of Sir Henry Bessemer is told how in 1833, when he was a youth of 20, he learned that the British Government was losing about $500,000 a year through the use of forged stamps. He set about finding a remedy. In nine months he discovered how to forge Government stamps with an elaborate machine. This was a risky bit of knowledge for a struggling young man who wanted money wherever it got married to the girl of his choice. But young Bessemer having inherited forthwith the forfeited stamp that is now known everywhere went gayly to the Government officials with the forgeries in his pocket to ask if they were genuine. When Sir Charles Presley passed them as genuine, Bessemer remarked that he knew they were forgeries "simply because I forged them myself." Then he suggested a remedy. It was accepted. Bessemer was offered the post of superintendent of stamps—for plant and staff must be reorganized at $5,000 to $10,000 a year.

Young Bessemer went away happily to tell his good luck to the girl of his choice. He explained to her the situation, how old stamps had been picked off documents and used again and how he had invented an elaborate plan to remedy this. "But surely," said the young lady, "if all the stamps had a date put on them they could not at a future time be used without detection." This rather simple method of stamping was the device. The British Government was delighted. The device was accepted and as no change of machinery or staff was needed, Bessemer was informed that no superintendent of stamps would be appointed. Thus he had deprived himself of a job.

Forty-five years later, after he had invented the "Bessemer process" of preparing iron and had made a great fortune, Bessemer wrote to Lord Beaconsfield, then Prime Minister, pointing out that he had saved the country millions without the reward of a penny. He no longer wanted money, but the Government acknowledged the debt and paid it with a knighthood.

ALAMEDA BOARD OF HEALTH
DECIDES TO TAKE ACTION.

ALAMEDA, August 8.—The Board of Health held its regular meeting last night and appointed a committee, consisting of Dr. William A. Brocke and Dr. J. Emmet Clark, to investigate the sanitary conditions of the local Chinese and Japanese settlements, and also to look into the arrangements for sweeping in the Oriental blocks.

It will be some time before the work will be completed through Chinatown by the officials, as some of the houses, it is understood, are in a filthy condition.

Last evening a TRIBUNE representative made a tour through the Chinese settlement and found conditions which the Board of Health will be obliged to remedy in order to prevent the spread of disease.

In one of the lodging houses the Chinese were packed in one room like sardines. In other houses the sanitary conditions were filthy, and in a number of places inhabited by the Mongolians the closets adjoined the kitchen.

Mr. McCann who owns the building on Railroad avenue and Park street, has had a six-foot fence erected, which entirely encloses that portion of Chinatown, forming a barricade. The police declare that the fence, which effectively makes a walled city of the "Little Peking," is a menace to society. They claim that disorderly affairs can occur behind this fence and the offenders escape before they can be apprehended.

At the session of the Health Board Dr. W. Stidham reported that there were twenty-one deaths during the month of July. The birth rate was unusually high, numbering fifty-one—27 males and 24 females.

Dr. Thomas Carpenter, City Veterinarian, made a report upon his inspection of the dairies. 690 cows had been examined and out of them 43 have been condemned.

WHAT THE THEATERS OFFER ON OPENING NIGHT

Bonnie Brier Bush is Well Produced at Ye Liberty Theater by Bishop's Players.

Last evening "Bonnie Brier Bush" received its first production at Ye Liberty Playhouse, and from the applause and curtain calls given by the audience will unquestionably become one of the most popular bills ever offered at this playhouse. It is a sweet, homely play, quaintly humorous and deeply pathetic. The scene of this drama is laid in Drumstochty, and the characters are those of shepherders and Scotch peasants.

Landers Stevens portrays the role of Lachlan Campbell, the stern old shepherd, the character J. H. Stoddard made famous throughout the country. Mr. Stevens has never been seen in a role better fitted to his talents, he giving one of his best characterizations ever seen here.

Ola Humphreys again scored another success by her clever acting, playing the role of Flora Campbell. Her portrayal of that character was perfect.

Orval Humphreys played the role of Donald Hay and gave a creditable piece of work in his conception of that role.

Frank Baker scored another hit as Archibald McKittick "Fosdy," a mail carrier. He had the comedy of the play and kept the audience in continuous laughter.

Elmer Booth, as Thomas Mitchell, was good, bringing out everything that was in that character.

Ethel Roberts, as Kate Carnegie, gave a good interpretation of that role.

The other members of Bishop's players, including Irene Outtrim, Margaret Maclyn, Philip Lord, Charles Inslee, Baby Martine and Olla Cooper, all gave excellent portrayals of their respective parts.

Lloyd Ingraham was at his best in the role of William McClure, a doctor of the old school, giving an able rendering of that character.

The scenery of the first and third acts was beautiful and the stage direction entirely worthy of recognition. "Bonnie Brier Bush" will be the attraction at this playhouse for the entire week, with the usual matinee Saturday and Sunday.

DEWEY THEATER.

When Baby Helene steps on the stage at the Dewey Theater the audience receives her with such applause that it is only two minutes before she is able to go on with her act. This little marvel is taking the lion's share of popular approval this week in the excellent bill which the management has secured for the theater-going public of Oakland. She is a marvel, and those who enjoy a clever act by a clever little miss should not fail to see this little child actress.

W. H. O'Dell, the comedian in "The Mystic Shrine," has discovered a new series of comedies, which are as original as is his own creative acting. He is a laugh-producer unexcelled and is the life of the evening piece.

Lu Lu San, Pay Templeton's great success, is presented by the eight graceful poster girls, who please the audience with their dancing and singing.

Pyne and Dandy have an acrobatic turn of exceptional merit, introducing specialties in newly conceived tramp work which makes the stage tramp as presented at the Dewey an entirely new man. The act is good and is received with great enthusiasm by the large houses.

Mr. and Mrs. Cree, in "Clancy's Visit," win the audience from the start, and have a turn that is funny and full of life. The three Lucifers appear this week for the last time on an Oakland stage and have an eccentric act of more than ordinary merit.

Ira Robertson in new illustrated songs and an excellent new series of moving pictures close a very high-class bill.

NOVELTY THEATER.

The new bill at the Novelty was a marked success. Each number was very much appreciated by the large audience present last night.

McCree & Poodle, the Sharp Shooter at the Human Target, was the feature of the show. McCree's wonderful display of his skill in marksmanship was a pronounced success. His act is certainly half-raising. He shot at all sorts of objects held by various positions, and not a single bullet missed the mark. The audience were in constant fear that his partner would be hit, but such was not the case. The most difficult feat was the breaking of glass balls on his partner's head in rapid succession. This act should not be missed.

Cooke and Oaks, Eccentric Comedians, came for their share of applause. They are all-around good comedians, good dancers and conversationalists. They also have a trick dog that performs some marvelous feats. The Great Lazette, Contortionist, first from the East, did some clever work. He appears as a tramp, jumps into a barrel and disrobes himself, which is done very cleverly. He received a very rousing reception.

McIntyre, Sisters, Singing and Dancing Comedians, are very talented artists. They are good singers and they have a lot of nice steps in dancing. They are change artists and have a fine wardrobe.

J. R. Walker, Musical Rube, came in

"GOOD GROWING WEATHER."

When the New Scalp Antiseptic is Used

A good head of hair is as much a "crown of glory" for man as it is for woman, notwithstanding all the poetry on the subject applied to the female exclusively. In the season when flies bite, the scalp, like the germ at the root of the hair and by keeping the scalp sweet, pure and wholesome, the hair is bound to grow as nature intended, regardless of the temperature. for his share of applause. He plays the part of a silly boy, which is good, and finishes playing musical instruments and particularly playing his trick with, using a broom, hair brush and other articles instead of a bow.

Allen Dougherty, the Phenomenal Baritone, sang a very pathetic song entitled, "Which Way Did the Angels Go," which was well received. The moving pictures are entirely new and up-to-date. The bill this week is a capital one.

THE BELL.

The program of vaudeville at the Bell Theater this week contains many clever acts and this popular little family theater continues to draw crowded houses at every performance.

Parish, in a very clever ventriloquist act, keeps the house in roars of laughter. His ventriloquism is not of the old school style and the jokes he makes his wooden images spring are new and really funny. Parish has excellent control of his lips and it is impossible to see them move during this act.

Waiter C. Williams made a departure from the staid illustrated song singing and is putting on an act this week which is in itself a very neat turn. He has a costume act taken from the "Bohemian Girl" in which his excellent voice is heard in "The Heart Bowed Down." The turn is extremely good. Robinson and Thompson have a song, dance and "dislocation" act which is a marvel. Robinson is the whole team. He seems to have been born without a joint in his body and his eccentric movements are highly entertaining. His motto might well be, "I move and you laugh." The team is well received and furnishes no end of laughter. While in character sketches and scenes taken from real life made a hit last night when he made his initial bow to the large audience. He has a very clever series of imitations, including the "United States" drawing card on any bill. The Royal Hawaiian Quintette is a feature and the soft, sweet songs and accompaniments make their act one of much pleasure.

These talented musicians have traveled all over the United States and have appeared not only on every stage but have been heard in the most exclusive society of the East. The audience seems unable to hear enough of them.

Mack and Williams have a very good talking act and deal in jokes entirely new and extremely funny.

The new series of moving pictures showing the great battle of the Benet automobile race recently held in the East is the most realistic seen in this branch of the program. The entire show is of high-class order.

GUNS CAPTURED BY JAPS

TAKE LIGHTHOUSE-KEEPER IN CUSTODY THEN RE-LEASE HIM.

TOKIO, August 8.—The Navy Department reports that a force of Japanese landed at Port Imperial ten miles south of Kashi Bay and captured the light house keeper, then released him to continue his duty. The Russians fled inland without making any resistance.

When the Japanese first landed at Kashi Bay they captured two bronze eight centimeter guns with which the fleeing Russians were bombarded.

CHICAGO, August 8.—Only 32 golfers of the 136 golfers who began play today in the first round of 28 holes in the qualifying round of the eleventh annual golf championship at the Chicago Golf Club links will be eligible for match play Thursday morning. The first four got away at 9:30 today. The schedule for the first half of scoring commences the dispatching of the last pair at 3:30 p. m.

ALAMEDA, August 8.—Martin Toohy, employed by the White Sewing Machine Company of Oakland, came to Alameda yesterday afternoon and left his horse unattended on Webster street, contrary to the ordinance requiring that all horses should be tied. He was arrested by Officer Joe Lawrence and this morning paid a fine of $5.

Cure For The Blues

ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED

Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way: She has been feeling "out of sorts" for some time; head has ached and back also; has slept poorly, been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart-beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling, and during her menstrual period she is exceedingly despondent. Nothing pleases her. Her doctor says: "Cheer up; you have dyspepsia; you will be all right soon."

Mrs. Rosa Adams

But she doesn't get "all right," and hope vanishes; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES.

Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. See what it did for Mrs. Rosa Adams, of 819 13th Street, Louisville, Ky., now of the late General Roger H. Adams, U.S.A. She writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

"I cannot tell you with pen and ink what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered with female troubles, extreme lassitude, nervousness and that all-gone feeling. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it not only cured my female troubles, but it has restored me to perfect health and strength. The buoyancy of my younger days has returned, and I do not suffer any longer with despondency, as I did before. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a boon to sick and suffering women."

If you have some derangement of the female organism write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.

MORGAN CALLS ON PRESIDENT

CONVERSATION WAS ENTIRELY REGARDING HANKOW RAILROAD.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., August 8.—I. Pierpont Morgan of New York had a conference yesterday with President Roosevelt lasting an hour and a half. The President himself is authority for the statement that it related practically entirely to the case of the Hankow Railroad, in China, a controlling interest in which is owned by J. P. Morgan & Co. Incidentally, and as relating in a measure to the railroad interests held by Americans in China, the pending peace negotiations formed a topic of conversation by the President and Mr. Morgan.

Morgan came to Oyster Bay unheralded. While his visit was by appointment, nothing concerning it was permitted to leak through official sources until after he had gone.

Shortly after noon Morgan's big steam yacht, the Corsair, anchored in the lower bay, about three-quarters of a mile from the Corinthian Yacht Club, on Center Island. When observed from the shore she was flying the United States flag, indicating that her owner was not aboard. Nevertheless he was there, and in a few minutes entered a steam launch and was taken ashore. One of the President's carriages was in waiting for him. He remained for luncheon with the President and Mrs. Roosevelt and for a time afterward.

DID NOT MEET SHAW.

The suggestion was made that Morgan's visit and that of Secretary Shaw a little earlier might be more than a coincidence, but it can be said authoritatively that they had no relation with each other. Secretary Shaw and Morgan did not meet and the purposes of their visits were entirely different. The President and Morgan discussed fully the Hankow Railroad concession. This was not the first time the subject had been considered by the President. Several months ago the question was taken up by the President and his cabinet, and considered thoroughly.

An effort is being made by the Chinese government to purchase the concession from the American-China Development Company, which owns the concession. The railroad is now in operation between Hankow and Canton, a distance of about thirty miles only, but the company, which is absolutely controlled by American capitalists, owns concessions and has made surveys for several hundred miles of railroad lines.

A proposition has been made by the Chinese government to the American-China Development Company to purchase the Hankow Railroad and the extension concessions. It is understood that the price offered is about $7,000,000. Some of the American holders of the stock are inclined to accept the proposal, but the European holders who have a minority of the stock insist, as they claim, in the interest of various foreign countries, that the road and its concessions be not sold, but that they remain in control of the Americans.

AN ENORMOUS ADVANTAGE.

A belief of the latter it is argued that a railroad in the heart of China operated by responsible and aggressive American business men in connection with the American steamship lines would be of enormous advantage only to the American producers of all kinds, but to those of the civilized world generally. It is said that King Leopold of Belgium, who owns some of the stock, takes this view of the situation and is vigorously opposed to yielding to the proposition of the Chinese government. A meeting of the board of directors of the American-China Development Company is to be held in Jersey City on the 22nd, and it is expected that at that time a determination will be reached as to the acceptance of China's offer.

No details of the conclusion reached at the conference between the President and Mr. Morgan are obtainable. No information was obtainable either

GREAT CHURCH BURNED

Fire Rages in Midst of Residences of Millionaires.

NEW YORK, August 8.—St. Thomas' Episcopal Church at Fifth avenue and Fifty-third street, one of the finest furnished religious edifices in this country, was destroyed by fire today.

Within a block of the ruined church are a score of the country's wealthiest men.

On Fifty-fourth street, directly in the rear, is the city residence of John D. Rockefeller, and near by are the residences of William Rockefeller, H. McKim, Colonel J. J. McCook, and the home of the late Daniel S. Land.

The Hotel St. Regis is scarcely one block away and scores of the finest city homes in America are in the section of the street of which St. Thomas' was practically the center.

The fire was confined to the church. Defective electric wiring is supposed to have started the fire. The loss is estimated by Fire Chief Croker at least a quarter of a million dollars. Only a mere shell of stone walls was left standing, and many valuable paintings and bas reliefs were ruined.

A bronze bas relief called "The Adoration of the Cross," valued at $50,000, was totally destroyed. Two large paintings, "The Resurrection," and "Christ Healing the Sick," were also burned. John Lafarge executed the paintings, and the bas relief was from Augustus St. Gaudens. Simplicity altar and chancel furnishings, including a $20,000 organ, were destroyed by fire.

For a time John D. Rockefeller's home was in danger. Firemen who stood with their hoses in the windows of Mr. Rockefeller's home concentrated the streams of water on the stone tower of the church, which for a time threatened to topple over on the Rockefeller house, owing to the intense heat at the tower's base.

The church, which was closed for the summer, has stood on its present site for fifty years, and has been the theater of some of America's most brilliant weddings. The Rev. Ernest M. Stiles is rector.

As to whether they considered the peace negotiations in relation to the flotation of a Russian loan in this country in case the envoys should reach an agreement which would render it necessary for Russia to raise a considerable sum of money.

Morgan, at the conclusion of the conference, went immediately to the Corsair, which sailed about 4 o'clock.

IT IS SERIOUS

Some Oakland People Fail to Realize the Seriousness

The constant aching of a bad back, the weariness, the tired feeling, the pains and aches of kidney ills are serious—if neglected. Dangerous urinary troubles follow. An Oakland citizen shows you how to avoid them.

Mrs. Peter Holme, 613 Sixth street, says: "Mr. Holme has gone to Alaska on a salmon fishing boat and will not return for some months. Shortly before he went away I had back ached so he could not work, and I honestly believe if it had not been for the use of Doan's Kidney Pills obtained at a drug store he would have been unable to make the journey. Mr. Holme had attacks of backache for many years. At first they were mild but with the passing of time they came more frequently and were much more acute. The last one was very severe, and when Doan's Kidney Pills stopped it and enabled him to return to work, to say we entertain a very high opinion of the preparation mildly expresses the facts."

OAKLAND TRIBUNE

W. E. DARGIE, President

Business Office and Publishing House, 413-417 Eighth Street, Oakland.

William Ellsworth Greene

A man who can sit for thirty-six years on the bench in the same county and be elected six consecutive times by majorities generally far in excess of the vote of his party must retain the confidence of the community to an extraordinary degree. If he be a man whose personal independence is aggressive and who takes no pains to ingratiate himself with the masses, the popular estimate of his worth and rectitude, as evidenced by repeated and decisive votes of confidence, must be accepted as all the more conclusive.

Such a man was Hon. William Ellsworth Greene, Superior Judge of Alameda county for thirty-six years. He was uncompromising in manner and character. He did not seek popular favor by catering to its prejudices. He was neither bland, suave nor soft-spoken in alluding to the public. He was not what is termed "a mixer," and employed none of the arts by which many men gain and hold favorable public opinion. His brusqueness on the bench was proverbial. He enforced order in court and obedience to his judicial mandates with stern severity. He permitted no trifling with the court on the part of attorneys, witnesses and jurors. He was not indulgent with faults or mistakes if they interfered with judicial processes. While a loyal friend and a charming companion to a chosen circle of intimates, he presented a rather cold exterior to the mass of men.

Yet this man was invincible before the voters of Alameda county when a candidate for judicial office. This was because his judicial integrity was unspotted, his impartiality unquestioned, his courage a matter of proverb. He was absolutely fearless in the discharge of his duty, and he expedited the business of the courts. He was impatient of delays and obdurate in the matter of granting continuances on trivial grounds. He exerted himself to prevent chicanery at the bar and to baffle attempts to turn court processes to improper uses.

It is obvious that a judge of this type is invaluable on the bench. This fact was well understood by the people of this country, and that is why hundreds of men who disliked Judge Greene personally voted for him regularly at elections. It was a rare tribute to worth.

But Judge Greene had a lovable side to his character that only a limited number of people saw. Those who looked behind the cold exterior and the harsh manner saw a warm heart teeming with kindly emotions and lasting friendships; unflinching loyalty and a fondness for the healthy activities of outdoor life. His weakness was a love for thoroughbred horses, and this weakness kept him financially embarrassed for many years—not because he bet on races or anything of that kind, but because he tried to breed horses and keep them although his engrossment in official duties prevented him from devoting the personal attention to fine stock breeding necessary to make it a financial success. By a singular contradiction, he was too trustful with the very class with whom he should have been wary. Disaster was the natural result. Judge Greene was a proud man, and he bore his losses and disappointments with fortitude, although they cut him off from some of the dearest aspirations of his life. He permitted himself to suffer from misconception rather than humiliate himself by explanations.

When it came to his personal affairs, Judge Greene's pride was stronger than his moral courage, which in other respects was splendid. Nevertheless he held a warm place in the hearts of the people of Alameda. The respect they entertained for him was akin to love, and now that he is gone his rugged virtues will be recalled with affectionate remembrance. His services to this community are beyond computation. He held the scales of justice for thirty-six years and the equity of their balance was never once questioned—a magnificent record truly. Civilization has no finer product, and none more necessary to the higher development of government, than the honest and fearless Judge William Ellsworth Greene was that, and his memory will live long in the land.

Senator Platt says he would live his political life differently if he had to live it over, but all he asks is five years more in which to live it down. Mae Wood seems to have made him feel nearly as badly as Ida M. Tarbell is said to have made John D. Rockefeller feel.

Tom Lawson and Ida M. Tarbell are doing the same stunt, but they are working different sides of the street.

Recently the San Francisco correspondent of the Stockton Record sent to that paper an interview with "a prominent Republican politician," whose name was not given, detailing how unpopular Governor Pardee was with politicians throughout the State. THE TRIBUNE suggested that possibly the "prominent Republican politician" was hunting for anti-Pardee sentiment, and incidentally referred to the reported gubernatorial aspirations of Railroad Commissioner Orrin Henderson. Our Stockton contemporary seems to have taken this as a criticism of the correspondent for writing and of the Record for publishing the interview. Quite the contrary, our criticism was directed at the politician who was trying to "knock" the Governor anonymously. We did not hold the Record responsible for what he had to say, only we pointed out that the knock appeared in a paper friendly to Mr. Henderson and printed in his home town. However, if Mr. Henderson is persona non grata with the Record we take it all back.

Uncle Russell Sage has just indulged in another birthday. It is suggested that he has had so many birthdays because they don't cost him anything.

Linevitch says he has a record-making army, but he fails to state whether he has entered it for the fighting or running championship.

The City Council of Wilmington, Delaware, stands six white Republicans to six white Democrats, with a negro Republican holding the balance of power. The colored Republican has thrown his party associates down and entered into a combine with the Democrats on his own terms. He is the undisputed boss of the Council and has as much patronage alone as the Democrats get altogether. And still they say the negro has no genius for government.

The retirement of Secretary Shaw from the Cabinet has been foreshadowed for some time, but it has not taken place as early as the forecasters predicted. It is now stated that the Secretary has requested the President to relieve him of the care of the Treasury Department at as early a date as possible, as he desires to be a candidate for President himself. This has been understood ever since the last election. While the personal and official relations existing between the President and the Secretary of the Treasury have been and are cordial, there is a difference between them regarding the tariff. Secretary Shaw is a standpatter, with a cold eye for reciprocity, while the President is of the opinion that the tariff needs revision in some particulars; he is also a warm advocate of reciprocity. For some reason the Treasury portfolio does not now command the deference it received in former years. Before Root re-entered the Cabinet Taft was the dominant figure among the President's advisers. Both Taft and Root are prospective candidates for the Presidency. Probably this fact has whetted the eagerness of Secretary Shaw to retire and devote his unfettered attention to constructing his boom. He is regarded with great favor by the Protective Tariff League, and can probably work to greater advantage for himself than if identified with the administration during the tariff fight that is likely to come off at the next session of Congress.

The Chinese Honor Code

"A Chinaman's word is as good as his oath," says Cassini. In what year of the world will this be said of the American? This sarcastic question is asked by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. The editor of that paper is not familiar with Chinese ways nor understands the Chinese character. In a business transaction the word of a Chinaman is to be implicitly relied upon. No people live up to their commercial obligations so religiously as the Chinese, but put a Chinaman on the stand to testify in a court of law and he will lie without scruple. It does not occur to him that it is anything dishonorable; he knows other Chinamen will do the same thing. According to his code of honor he is bound to do whatever he agrees to do, but there is no binding obligation on him to tell the truth about a past transaction or occurrence. He will perjure himself over and over to help a friend or punish an enemy, but his simple promise to do something is as good as gold. People with Western ideas cannot understand how a man who is strictly honest in his dealings with men and whose word is as good as most white men's bond should lie with shameless effrontery in testifying to facts in court, but that is because they fail to grasp the subtleties of the Oriental character. As business men the Chinese have many sterling virtues. As citizens they have very little virtue. As the agent for some individual or firm a Chinese will exhibit strict integrity and rare fidelity. As a public official, he will be systematically corrupt, selling justice, betraying the law and accepting bribes as a matter of business.

Secretary Wilson may stay in the Cabinet, but it is certain that a lot of his subordinates will lose their jobs.

In July 48,000 immigrants arrived at the port of New York. Of these more than one thousand were deported as paupers, mendicants, criminals or immoral persons—a large percentage. Commissioner Watchorn says Europe is dumping her riff-raff on the United States. He declares the immigrants now coming to the country are lower in morals, stamina and intelligence than the immigrants of past years. If this be true, we are getting a vast amount of poor material from abroad to deteriorate our population.

CATCHING LOCAL COLOR.

While hunting for "local color" in the penitentiary at Carson City, Nev., Mr. Hamlin Garland was subjected to the unpleasant experience of being confined in a cell for three hours with a convicted and somewhat profane murderer for a neighbor.

Mr. Garland had intended to acquire his supply of "local color" in half an hour, but a sociable warden forgot him. Three hours is little enough time for an author in search of "local color" to spend in a penitentiary. If he really desired to know something at first hand about prison life he should be willing to spend a year in solitary confinement, or at best at hard labor.

"Local color" is one of the most entertaining of the American novelist's fads and fancies. He attends a political convention and thinks he knows all about politics. He goes on an excursion to Newport and knows all about the social life of the Four Hundred. He spends an evening at a Broadway roof garden and has mastered the life of the Tenderloin. He visits the Stock Exchange and is straightway equipped to saturate 376 pages of a novel with the doings of high finance. He is like the actress, who spends two weeks on a Jersey farm and by copying a sunbonnet gains all the materials for a star appearance in a bucolic melodrama.

Most American novels are flaring with "local color" applied with a whitewash brush. It is all acquired while you wait. That helps to account for the status of American fiction, in which scores of novels are turned out every year by novelists who never have the time or patience or persistence to understand the thing they are trying to write about. But probably it is much more profitable that way. Any kind of color may be good enough for readers who care no more about the real tints than the novelist himself.—New York World.

THE LAND OF PHANTASY.

It was the land of phantasy, where it is always May,
The long, long twilight lingered, and the golden air was sweet;
In swelling hill and rolling moor the pale dream country lay,
With a winding road across the downs to tempt our wandering feet.

We gathered blossoms all the way; strange, magic blooms grew there,
The shining flowers of happiness, and honeyed buds of bliss;
You twined wild garlands through your curls, and on your bosom fair
You bore the red, red rose of love, with petals like a kiss.

Scarce any murmur broke the hush in that still land of dreams.

Perhaps a whisper of the wind, or note of nested bird,
And far away the bubbling breath of distant gushing streams,
But not the sound of human voice, or any spoken word.

There was no need of spoken word as hand-in-hand we went,
For each heart beat the measure full of perfect harmony;
Our eyes on one another looked with silent, deep content,
We did not question what had been, nor what was yet to be.

A charmed spell the spirit held through those enchanted hours,
The dim past faded out like smoke, and time was swept away;
We sought no boon of future joy, eternity was ours—
This was the land of phantasy, where it is always May.
—Phoebe Lyde, in May Lippincott's Magazine.

"EVERY MAN CAN LIVE ONE HUNDRED YEARS"

We Sleep 25 Years Too Much Says an English Expert.

The scientific world of England and America is vastly interested in a new exponent of long life—Sir James Crichton-Browne—who declares that the normal life of man is one hundred years. Physicians on both sides of the water have taken the matter up and the papers are full of suggestions how to prolong life and how to live that any hereditary disease which would tend to shorten a man's years may be overcome.

Sir James Crichton-Browne contends, in opposition to the Osler theory, that many contributions of inestimable value have been made to knowledge by men more than sixty years old. The great specialist lays down the following rules conducive to long life:

- Be moderate.
- Take plenty of exercise.
- Take plenty of sleep.
- Do not worry.
- Eat sparingly of fish and meat.
- Eat plenty of bread, milk, fruit, sugar, rice and peas.

Sir James says the fact that centenarians are more numerous among the negro races is because they unconsciously follow these rules. He proved by statistics that, while a white man is awake seventy-five years out of a hundred, a negro is awake only about fifty years.

Some time ago twenty men and women who had passed the century mark gave a set of rules by which they had abided and to which, they said, they owed their longevity. Of these twenty, twelve were women and eight men. The first rule that the majority agreed upon was that excesses of all kinds should be avoided. The next in favor was that worry should be banished. The strongest and most active among the number asserted that the chief requisite of long life was hard work, while several approved the use of liquor and tobacco moderately.

Many aged men now active in public service have heartily approved of the stand taken by Sir Charles Crichton-Browne, and they all are in sympathy with the belief that the span of human life can be extended by a wise economy of the vital forces and an earnest endeavor to improve the condition of society.

Lord Strathcona, the grand old man of Canada, who is eight-five years old, says that he has been a worker since he was eighteen and that the secret of his longevity is moderation. "As for the lethal-chamber suggestion and the forty year limit of Professor Osler—nonsense," he says.

The subject of longevity was discussed widely by some of the foremost physicians of New York recently, of whom four of the best known have consented to publish their opinions.

Among the rules they lay down are these: Do not worry. Be moderate. Do not overeat. Take exercise. Take a proper diet. Do not drink to excess. Take healthy enjoyment. Keep the brain active.

BY DR. GRAEME HAMMOND. I believe that longevity depends to a great extent upon racial characteristics and heredity. It is the characteristic for the family or race from which the individual comes to be long-lived; I believe the man has a chance of reaching a ripe old age.

It does not all depend on the powers of resistance which a man is able to call forth. If each individual would live properly, however, and take the proper care of himself, I do believe that he can certainly lengthen his life.

The great trouble with the individual of today is that he is both intemperate and immoderate in his mode of life.

He goes to excess in the things which he should use with moderation. The man of today lives not for health, but for enjoyment. On the other hand, I do not think that living for health alone would materially lengthen life, as some enjoyment is necessary to keep the brain and body active.

BY DR. GEORGE M'KEE. The view of Sir James Crichton-Browne that every man has a right to live one hundred years is too radical. So is the theory of Dr. Osler, that men should seek the lethal-chamber at forty. I would be more conservative and place the age limit of man between eighty and ninety years. Every man should be able to live that long, while there are few, even though they take splendid care of themselves, who live to be one hundred.

I do not believe that heredity has anything to do with the age of a man unless he inherits a hereditary disease. Because your father's father or ancestors, even more remote, lived a short time, is no reason why you should not exist much longer. The trouble with us is that we over-eat and under-exercise.

BY DR. A. W. MAYNARD. I am a sceptic as to the individual opinion of rules to prolong life, but there are some things which can scientifically be proved that will prolong or shorten the life of man. To my mind long life is a matter of heredity. That has more to do with it than anything else. If one comes from a family of long-lived people, provided he is not dissipated and has not contracted a chronic disease, he has every chance to live to a very old age. I am a great believer in moderation in all things, and while I think that all good things should be used, none should be used to excess. Each individual has his own peculiar idiosyncrasies and should be governed by them.

BY DR. D. A. M'MICHAEL. I fully agree that every man has the right to live to be a hundred years old. Being a physician, I am called upon every day to treat those who are ill, and I know from experience what good a moderate diet and moderation in all things is to a man. I have proved beyond a doubt that many diseases which help to terminate life are brought on by ignoring the demands of Nature and from over-anxiety and overwork.

There was once a Venetian Prince who dissipated his fortune and with it his health, and when he found that both were gone he decided to regain his health first of all. So well did he succeed that, despite his former excesses, he lived to be a hundred.

Many, many men have been like this Prince, and by changing their mode of life from riotous living to moderation have lengthened their lives considerably.

WOMEN OF FORTY THE WORST SHOPLIFTERS

—Statement of Female Detective.

It's the good old summer time with its sheer organdies and its light frocks that puts department store "Sherlock Holmes" out of business. Or to say the least, it's the woman detective's "dull times," for while the pursuit of shoplifters is never "out of season," it is a much more difficult matter for a woman to conceal appropriated articles in the folds of an organdie gown than it is for her to hide them within the mysterious depths of a heavy winter cape or in a muff.

And alas, while it is pitiable to speak of the shoplifter in the feminine gender, women are the main offenders, and hark ye, women between the ages of 35 and 45!

The oldest woman I ever caught stealing was 64 years of age, and the youngest was a girl of seven, but such cases are rare," said a female detective, "and while most of the thefts are made by women of the middle class—by the comfortably well to do—very poor women and women who hold positions in the most exclusive and wealthy circles have been among those whom I have caught in the act of purloining articles from the stores of this city."

"Oh, if you only knew who I am you'd never accuse me of stealing," said a handsome matron in seal skin jacket and beautiful gown last winter when I accosted her after having noticed her take at least $25 worth of hand-made lingerie from a sales table and stuff it in the front of her jacket.

"Oh, yes, I would, madam," I remarked, "for I am no respecter of persons. I simply want to know if you are going to pay for those articles in the front of your jacket," I added. When the woman realized that she had been discovered in her theft, she turned deathly pale and confessed, ascribing it to her weakened physical condition. Her confession and willingness to pay full value, as well as to allow the store from which the articles were stolen to search her residence if they deemed fit, saved her from the Police Court, but the fright that she had, and the nearness to public exposure has cured the woman completely, for I have watched her many times since and she never for an instant falters.

"In our business one has to be very cautious and very sure in making arrests and the secret of success is not to accuse the suspect oneself, but let her convict herself, for she'll do it as sure as fate if one goes at her right."

"It's the woman who denies that she has stolen anything and who makes a fuss and fame that gets the worst of it. The one who gives wrong names and addresses—and let me say here, name she generally gives a wrong name she generally gives the name of her very best friend. Singular, isn't it? But those tricks are useless, for if we find she has deceived us, she is taken right into the Police Court, and there the truth comes out."

The women's resting rooms and lounging rooms that have been introduced into all the large stores during the past few years have been a veritable boon to the shoplifter, for after making a raid through a store they generally go into the dressing rooms and seek a place where they can change the papers or parcels so that when they go out of the store their packages of "loot" are neatly wrapped in papers bearing the name of some other store and no one would suspect anything when they make their exit.

"I always find string and wrapping paper at the bottom of sacks or shopping bags of the professional shoplifter whenever I have arrested them," said the detective, "and many times I have followed them into the dressing rooms and watched them make the exchange in 'wrapping paper.'" She added:

"I saw one girl who had stolen some cheap jewelry go into the dressing room, take down her pompadour and pin the stolen gewgaws carefully into it, and then she rolled her hair back smoothly and adjusted her hat with the nonchalance of a girl going to her devotions."

"I have even seen mothers conceal articles within the long skirts of their infants which they have been carrying in their arms," added the clever woman.

"It is indeed hard to arrest such a woman. I always shrink at the task, but it has to be done," added the detective, stoically.

SOME TRICKS OF LONDON GROCERY TRADE

"Most people would be astonished if they knew how many London shopkeepers are compelled to resort to all sorts of mean economies," said a Londoner who is now visiting this country, but who served many years as an assistant in a large provision store in the English capital.

"I don't believe there is any Yankee shrewdness to equal it. Even the Londoners would be incredulous if one told them that many of the shopmen, especially those in the provision departments, are absolutely compelled to practice the tricks of the trade. At the shop I worked at, if any one of the assistants was discovered giving full weight he would be at once dismissed and another man more expert at 'weighing up' put in his place.

"This seems, I know, a sensational sort of statement to make, but it is, nevertheless, quite true. In some shops I have worked in the proprietors absolutely discourage honesty—make it, in fact, an utter impossibility for any assistant to serve the public in an honest and straightforward manner. "What do I mean? Well, take, for instance, the butter counter under my charge. I am served out with forty pounds of butter and ten pounds of wrapping paper—each weighed to the fraction of an ounce—and for these I must show returns for fifty pounds of butter! If I do not, there is trouble ahead.

"How is it done? Water, of course, weighs heavy, so we use plenty of it while 'putting' the butter into shape. Dash some more water on the paper; then thump butter and paper onto the scales together; snick a bit off if the scale goes down heavily or smack a morsel on if it won't move; take it off and give it another pat, then thump the lot on again. The scale moves down slightly, and, whisk! off comes the butter and another paper goes around it. Butter, water and paper only weigh just a pound altogether; but, of course, the customer pays the same price for the paper and water as for the butter. This 'weighing up,' I might say, is done very quickly and neatly.

"Cheese is much easier to manipulate, and occasionally when our butter receipts are low can make up the deficiency at the cheese counter. A lady asks, we will say, for a pound of cheese—'eightpenny Cheddar'—and I cut a piece which weighs slightly more. Picking up a few of the smaller weights, I put one or two on each side of the balance. Perhaps the cheese weighs half an ounce over the pound. 'Seventeen ounces, ninepence, madam,' I say. 'Will that do?' And as a rule she takes it without question, thus paying for the extra half ounce at the rate of 2s. 8d. per pound.

"In the other departments it is the same. Tea is usually weighed in a 'lead' wrapper, and sugar, of course, in the familiar thick and heavy paper, so that in every case the customer pays for the wrapper at the same rate as for the article.

Of course it is not fair to the public, but what can we assistants do? If we are at any time found giving more than 'weight' we are reported and most probably dismissed. The manager will sometimes send a small boy or girl into the shop for some butter or cheese on the scale again. If it—wager hands, him the package, he bounces into the shop and puts the butter or cheese on he scale again. If it—with the paper—just balances, then all's well; but if the scale goes down, showing that you have given good weight, then trouble follows.

"So, as there are scores of butter-men and other grocers' assistants unemployed, and just watching, as it were, for a chance to step into our berths, we have to be very, very careful not to give any cause for complaint."

YOUNGEST GRAND-MOTHER IN MISSOURI DIVORCED

KANSAS CITY, August 7.—The youngest grandmother in the State of Missouri, possibly, obtained a divorce decree recently. She is Mrs. Laura B. Milice. She is thirty-four years old. She has two daughters, one twenty years old and one seventeen. She has two grandchildren, one of them three years old. She was divorced from Frank M. Milice, who is in the real estate and insurance business. It was the second time she had been divorced. Her maiden name was Laura F. Moreland. When she was fourteen years old she married Charles Harper, owner of a saloon in Main street. A few years ago she was divorced from him.

On August 11, 1898, Milice married her, but he left her in August, 1903.

She testified: "I have always loved Mr. Milice and love him now. I have used every effort, up to the time of filing this divorce petition, to get him to return to me, but he will not. He is going to Mexico to live."

"You were pretty young when you were first married?" asked Judge Park.

"Yes, sir. I was only fourteen. I am the youngest grandmother in Missouri."

"What are you a grandmother?" asked the Judge.

"Yes, sir. My daughter was married when she was seventeen, and she has a child three years old. I have two of the handsomest daughters you ever saw."

Mrs. Milice is a good-looking woman. Her lawyer asked her why her husband left her. She said she did not know. "It was not on account of your cooking, was it?"

"No, sir. There's not a better cook in this city. I cooked so well that it made my husband eat so much that he would get sick. I think the day will come when he will see the error of leaving so good a cook. After he left me his relatives came to visit me, and they said they wished Frank, my husband, was there to enjoy it."

Harper, her first husband, is now in Newark, N. J. Mrs. Milice will go to Chicago and make her home with her daughter.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY

ENGAGEMENTS OF THE WEEK

THREE MORE BRIDES-TO-BE ADDED TO THE LIST.

During the past few days a number of engagements have been formally announced and a fair group of brides-to-be will be candidates for social favor this coming season. Among the engagements of wide interest is that of Miss Alice Louise Senger, daughter of Professor and Mrs. J. H. Senger of Berkeley, to Thomas Boyd Hutchins Jr., of Gridley.

The marriage of Florence Senger and Dudley Saelzer was a recent society affair in Berkeley, and a particular romance is lent to this engagement since Miss Alice was her sister's maid of honor, while Mr. Hutchins was an usher at the wedding.

Both young people were prominent in college work, and the wedding will doubtless be an elaborate affair. No date has been mentioned.

Another engagement surprise for people on this side of the bay is the announcement that Miss May Wright, formerly of Alameda, but now of San Francisco, is soon to marry Frederick Moss. Miss Wright is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wright and is a favorite in society. Her fiancé is identified with a large publishing firm across the bay. No date has been set for the wedding.

FROM THE EAST. Mrs. E. H. Funston, mother of General Frederick Funston, arrived Sunday evening from her home in Topeka, Kansas. She will be the guest of General and Mrs. Funston at the Presidio for a month.

AN ENGAGEMENT.

Among the most interesting of recent engagements is that of Miss Carol Moore of San Francisco to Arthur Geissler. The formal announcement was not to be made until Thursday afternoon, when Miss Moore will give a tea in honor of her friend, Miss Helen Ashton. The secret is out, however, and now hosts of friends on both sides of the bay, are sending congratulations and good wishes to the young people. Miss Moore is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Allen Moore and was a debutante of last season. Mr. Geissler is a prominent young business man of San Francisco.

BUILDING BUNGALOW.

Roy McCabe, whose marriage to Miss Edith Gaskill will take place August 21, is building a cozy bungalow on the McCabe ranch in Contra Costa county.

CHURCH WEDDING.

A pretty wedding was solemnized Sunday evening, August 6, at the Church of the Immaculate Conception when Miss Theresa Barnes became the bride of Edward McKinney, the Rev. Father Dempsey officiating. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cox, recently of Chicago, and a number of friends witnessed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. McKinney will make their home in this city after a brief honeymoon.

SURPRISE PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith were the recipients of a pleasant surprise party given Saturday evening at their home in Centerville. The hours sped swiftly with music and games and an elaborate supper was served late in the evening.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith, Mrs. Tower, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Norris, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Max Bodeutsch, Mr. and Mrs. A. Satterthwaite, Misses Miranda and Mary Norris, Alice and Helen Eggers, Mary and Elizabeth Dusterberry, Elsie Sandholt, Margaret Marten, Milla Rix, Emma Simpson, Annie Mellick, Lena Laumelster, Dorothy Smith and Lucille Norris; Messrs. Garrett Norris, Henry Dusterberry, F. L. Dusterberry, J. A. Spencer, T. Laumelster, Fred F. Dusterberry, Harold Bodeutsch; from San Francisco—Dr. and Mrs. H. Noble and E. J. Feeler.

VISITING HERE.

John H. Stevens of Oakland has been entertaining for a week or more his daughter, Mrs. Mary Stevens Fowle, and her husband, Arthur E. Fowle, who live at Gomez Palacio, State of Durango, Mexico. On Sunday the family were photographed in a group. The picture is interesting in that it represents a wide range of ages. Mr. Stevens' venerable father is ninety-two, then Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Fowle and last, little Edwin Stevens Fowle, aged three weeks. Arthur E. Fowle is a chemical engineer and is superintendent of a large glycerine factory at Gomez Palacio, where he has been stationed for the past five years. He goes this week to his post, but

MISS ALMA CAHILL, WHO IS SPENDING THE SUMMER AT HER COUNTRY HOME AT GUERNEVILLE.

Mrs. Fowle will remain in Oakland for some weeks yet.

WEDDING DATE.

The date for the marriage of Miss Ada Eugenia Kenna and Murray Orrick has been set for September 7, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. P. J. G. Kenna, in East Oakland. Mrs. Irving Burrell will attend her sister as matron of honor.

OPENS STUDIO.

Miss Reid Hutchins, pupil of Alice Gates, has opened a music studio in the Washington apartments, New York City. Miss Hutchins is the daughter of the late Dr. Hutchins and was a success in the musical world here before going East to establish a career in the metropolis.

SOCIAL NOTES.

Sam Bell McKee left last evening for a visit to his sister, Mrs. Orestes Pierce, at her summer home near Tahoe. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Prather, accompanied by Secretary Metcalf, enjoyed an auto trip last Saturday to Monterey. Miss Ethel Valentine is spending a few days as the guest of Miss Jane Rawlings, at La Loma Linda, near Los Gatos. Dr. and Mrs. William Lynham Shiel left Saturday night to visit the Portland Exposition. They have been enjoying a delightful summer in Lake county.

DARING CHURCH THIEVES.

"One would think that the 'poor boxes' and charity collection boxes left for the churchgoers' mites would be safe from even the meanest thief," said a policeman whose post takes in several Harlem churches, "but they are not. Every week you read of some sneak thief who has been nabbed while fishing with chewing gum on the end of a fine wire down in the slot for the coins collected for the poor. I have had the pleasure of nabbing many of these gentry, after being called in by the pastor or the sexton. "The losses of purses and chatelaine bags from church pews certainly indicate that a gang of crooks are working this graft with great success. Worshipers instinctively throw aside caution for the protection of their valuables while in church, and that is the criminal's harvest. Even when worshippers are not too absorbed in devotion to miss their purses there are few people bold enough to make an outcry as the crook decamps. "For instance, go around the corner to the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, on First Avenue and One Hundred and Fifteenth street, and you will see a beautiful statue of the Madonna and Child, which has to be protected from pillage by a burglar alarm. Both of the figures are surmounted by solid gold crowns that fairly blaze with precious gems. These two diamonds are said to be worth $25,000, and they are protected by a gold-mounted glass case that covers the statue. A close observer will notice that the statue, its base, the crowns and other portions of the shrine are covered with a net of fine wires, which extend in a small but very business-like song, that may not fit in well with the statue but it is a necessity. This intricate burglar alarm also connects with the priest's house."

NO MEETING OF MRS. GOULD IS COUNCIL INJURED

SOCIALISTS WANT A NEW LAW
ON STREET MEET-INGS.

The City Council did not meet last night as there was no quorum. Those present were Councilmen Aiken, Burns, Elliott, Lohm, Lusk and Moore. An adjournment was taken until this evening at which time the Council will sit as a board of equalization.

Although there was no meeting there was a large delegation of socialists present to protest against ordinance 1835 prohibiting persons from speaking at public meetings held on the streets within the fire limits without a permit. The socialists wish either a repeal of the ordinance or a modification of it so that public meetings may be held at any time. The grounds on which the repeal is asked is that the ordinance is obnoxious and discriminating. Among the socialists present were Attorney Austin Lewis, William McDevitt, J. E. Osborne, W. C. Tuck, W. U. Holloway and H. R. Lillenthal.

CREATE NEW POSITION IN SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

Assistant to Superintendent Elected
—Principals Are Assigned
—Deadlock Broken.

There was a new and important position created in the School Department by the Board of Education last night, and Wm. M. Greenwell, principal of the Piedmont School, was elected to fill it. The position is that of assistant to the Superintendent of Schools, McClymonds.

The reason for creating the position, as stated by the classification committee, is that there is so much building work going on that nearly all of Superintendent McClymonds' time is taken up by it and it was deemed advisable to elect an assistant who will spend his time in the schools. His salary was fixed at $181 a month for the next eleven months.

The matter was brought up by Director Rogers, who made a report for the classification committee which contained the following resolution:

"Board of Education—Gentlemen: We would respectfully recommend the position of assistant to the City Superintendent of Schools be nominated by the City Superintendent of Schools and be elected by the Board of Education. Respectfully submitted,

"CLASSIFICATION COMMITTEE,
C. D. ROGERS,
"J. B. WOOD."
Upon motion this report was adopted, and it was then suggested that it would be proper for the first of the committee to fix the compensation before hearing the recommendation of Superintendent McClymonds as to who the person to fill the position should be. The finance committee was accordingly constituted, made the following report:

"To the Honorable Board of Education:—Your finance committee would recommend that the salary of the assistant to the City Superintendent of Schools for this fiscal year at the rate of $181 a month, the salary to date from August 1. Respectfully,
"H. REDINGTON,
"F. M. HATHAWAY."

Superintendent McClymonds then stated that he would nominate for this position Wm. M. Greenwell, principal of the Piedmont School. He said: "I would like to have a man who is thoroughly qualified to spend his time in the school rooms. He will have no office work to do during school hours, but there should be some one to take my place while I am out looking after the building of the new school houses. I therefore nominate for this position one that I believe is capable of filling the position satisfactorily. It is Wm. M. Greenwell."

The question of his election was put to a vote and he was unanimously elected.

PRINCIPALS ASSIGNED.

In regard to the position made vacant by Greenwell's promotion, the classification committee recommended that Mrs. E. A. Wilson of the Temescal School, against whom charges were preferred which the Board found not to be sustained, be given the place made vacant. Principal J. A. Vergon of the Bay School, it further recommended be given the vacancy made at the Temescal School. C. E. Hudspeeth of the Washington School to fill the vacancy at the Bay School. C. E. Hudspeeth to be moved from the Peralta School to the vacancy at the Washington School, and S. P. Meade, a teacher in the High School, to be promoted to the principalship of the Peralta School. The recommendation of the committee was adopted and the assignments of the principals made as follows:

Bay School, C. E. Hudspeeth; Clawson, Miss Julia E. Colby; Cole, George W. Frick; Durant, S. G. S. Dunbar; Franklin, J. F. Chandler; Garfield, Mrs. E. A. Wilson; Grant, J. D. Martin; Grove, Miss M. M. Campbell; Harrison, Mrs. H. M. Mullen; Lafayette, C. E. Keyes; Lincoln, J. P. Garlick; Peralta, S. P. Meade; Piedmont, Mrs. E. A. Wilson; Prescott, C. F. Gullick; Sweet, J. C. Gilson; Temescal, J. A. Vergon; Tompkins, Miss E. A. Walton; Washington, C. E. Hudspeeth.

FURTHER CHANGES.

That the following be assigned as assistants to principals: Miss Bessie Woodward to Greenwell, and Miss Edith Nichols to Vergon. A new feature will be the appearance of each union with its members in distinctive uniform. This will be much to add to the attractiveness of the procession.

There will be a meeting of the Labor Day parade committee this evening to discuss the parade and to further proceed plans already under way.

There is quite a bit of friendly rivalry over the choice of Grand Marshal for the parade. There are several candidates making a strong bid for the place, and this subject will also be discussed at the meeting this evening.

The picnic at Shell Mound Park on Labor Day promises to be one of the largest affairs of the kind ever held at that resort. It is to be given by San Francisco and Alameda County. The picnic will be in conjunction with the celebration of Labor Day, and one of the features will be the distribution of 1500 gate prizes.

Miss Helen S. Hutchinson, Miss Bessie Pratt, Miss Hattie R. Hampton, Miss Julia Smith and Miss Gertrude M. Jewett were granted six months' leave of absence. The resignations of Miss Ethore Sampson and Miss Helen Harrington were received and accepted.

Professor Pond of the High School told the board that Mrs. Winterburn, teacher of history and German, had told him that she was not going to return but that she had not sent in a formal resignation. He, however, asked, to be allowed to appoint Miss Veda Sherman to the position in case she did not return. He stated that Miss Sherman at present has a place in the southern part of the State but that he could get her and that she was particularly well fitted to fill the position. He was given the necessary authority to do so.

THANK THE BOARD.

The following letter was read from the children of the late Fred M. Campbell for many years Superintendent of the school system. It was signed by the new school boys for him: "Very truly yours,
"MARY M. CAMPBELL."

ADOPT SONG BOOKS.

The Board last night adopted a song book prepared by Kate E. Palmer, a former teacher in the schools here as a book for the first grade pupils.

MATTER OF BLOWERS.

The following recommendation in regard to blowers was unanimously adopted:

"To the Honorable Board of Education, Gentlemen: Your Committee on School Houses and Sites has carefully investigated the matter of double and single blowers for the larger schools. We find that the first cost of installing the double blowers in the Franklin, Lafayette, Grant, Prescott and Lincoln Schools would be approximately $1500 more than for single blowers. We find that in doing this there will be a saving of approximately $1000.00 per annum in the cost of fuel and power.

We are assured by the contractor that he will install in the Market street and Washington schools, the proper construction and one unit of the double blowers so that when additions are made on these buildings, we can have the same system of blowers in these two schools as are in the larger schools.

"With this showing, your committee has no hesitancy in recommending the installing of the blowers in the five schools heretofore named."

MAKES PLANS FOR LABOR DAY

The Labor Day Parade Committee of the Building Trades Council held a meeting last Saturday evening at which time plans were discussed and preparations made for the celebration of Labor Day in Alameda county.

The committee reports that enough music had been secured to provide marching strings for those in the parade.

It is announced that various unattached unions will be in the parade and in this connection the committee wishes it announced that any union, not attached to the Building Trades Council is invited to participate in the parade on Labor Day, and to announce such intention to the Labor Day Committee of the Building Trades Council.

It is the desire of the committee to make the parade this year the largest and most distinctive ever given in Alameda county. The parade will be made up of many features and will be the appearance of each union with its members in distinctive uniform. This will be much to add to the attractiveness of the procession.

The complete program for the celebration of Labor Day has not as yet been decided upon, but it is anticipated that nearly all arrangements for the observance of the day will be made.

If present and prospective plans are carried out, it will be the largest celebration ever known in Alameda county.

"FRAT" MEN SHOWN TO BE O. K. IN STUDIES

D. S. ADAMS.

University Man Presents Statistics to Dissipate a Common Error About College Societies.

BERKELEY, August 8.—An exhaustive record of statistics, showing the percentage of those who entered college with the class of 1905 graduating and also how college activities influence college records, has been compiled by D. S. Adams, a senior student in the College of Social Sciences, University of California. Valuable and, in some cases, rather startling facts have been brought to light by Adams in his compilation, upsetting many previously held theories in regard to college activities in their relation to the college work of the students.

Heretofore, it has always been the general belief that a much greater number of non-fraternity men are graduated than fraternity members, as it is contended that the frat men have too good a time to study as hard as the others. But Adams' figures disprove this claim, for of the men entering with the class of 1905, 23.3 per cent of fraternity men graduated and 24.4 per cent of non-fraternity men graduating, thus making but 1.1 per cent difference. True condition existing in the case of the sorority and non-sorority women students, the percentage in this class being 36.30 and 37.7 per cent respectively. Some interesting data regarding the influence of athletics on the students is brought out by Adams in his tables. Only 12.5 per cent of big "C" football players were graduated, while none of the baseball players received their diplomas. Of the freshman football players, 13.1 per cent graduated. Fifty per cent of the big "C" track men graduated, thus showing that track takes the least time of any of the college athletics.

In giving his reasons for compiling the table, Adams says: "Frequently such questions are asked as 'What per cent of those that enter college graduate with their class?' 'What per cent of the technical students and what per cent of the students from the general colleges graduate?' How do the men and women compare in the numbers that graduate with their class, and do college activities tell on college records?" "With considerable care I have prepared the statistics of the class of 1905, which will to a degree answer such questions as suggested above. "By the class of 1905 I include those that entered in August, 1901, and graduated in December, 1904, or May, 1905.

ROMANCE FLOWERS

Marriage Sequel to Meeting in Honolulu.

BERKELEY, August 8.—The engagement of Miss Nana Mighell and Adrian Spivale has just been announced. The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Mighell of Berkeley, and her fiancé is the son of C. R. Spivale of Belmont.

The engagement is the culmination of a romance which had its beginning last December in Honolulu. At that time young Spivale was attending to the business interests of his father in the Hawaiian Islands. Miss Mighell came to Honolulu on a pleasure trip, and shortly afterward became acquainted with her future husband. Their friendship was renewed when both returned to California and later ripened into love and prospective marriage.

No definite date has been set for the wedding, but it will take place in the early winter at the San Francisco residence of the Mighells.

Miss Mighell has been a favorite in society, both in San Francisco and in Berkeley. Her fiancé is a graduate of Stanford and is prominent in club and social circles.

CITIZENS "KICK" AT AWAITS FIANCEE

Berkeley Property Owners Ask Trustees to Remove Objectionable Industries.

BERKELEY, August 8.—A strenuous protest was made against permitting planing mills and lumber yards to do business in the residence section of Berkeley, at a meeting of the Town Trustees, called last night for the purpose of considering this matter. Citizens who reside in the planing-mill district, so-called, were present in force, and also had as their representative Attorney Robinson, who spoke on the subject that interests his clients. Attorney Robinson, for the property owners in question, recently presented to the Trustees the draft of an ordinance the objectors desired to have adopted, which, if passed, would force the removal of lumber yards and planing mills to other parts of the town. This ordinance was referred to Town Attorney Johnson, who reported that while planing mills might be dealt with as desired, he did not believe lumber yards could be thus disposed of. Attorney Robinson, to conform to this opinion, presented last night two ordinances, one dealing with mills and one with lumber yards, which might be adopted by the Trustees.

The district which he desired to have freed of the alleged manufacturing nuisances, he stated, was practically all that part of Berkeley east of Sacramento street. In support of the ordinance, Attorney Robinson presented a petition, asking for the adoption of the ordinance, signed by about 50 property owners in the neighborhood of the planing mills. He said the list included but a small part of those who object to the mills and lumber yards.

The attorney addressed the Board at length, declaring it an untruth to say that his clients desired manufacturing interests driven from Berkeley, inasmuch as the map shows that if the ordinance is adopted, one-third of Berkeley is still open for manufacturing enterprises. He presented examples of the alleged injurious effects of planing mills upon the value of adjoining residence property. The Board listened to declarations of several men who are interested in the non-removal of the industries in question, and referred the matter to the Town Attorney.

LODGE TO ENTERTAIN

Foresters Will be the Hosts this Evening.

HAYWARDS, August 8.—Court 178 of the Foresters of America is to be entertained by Haywards Circle of Companions of the Forest this evening at the Native Sons Hall. The affair will be given in the honor of the installation of the new officers of the Companions. There will be dancing, a feast and games of cards included in the evening's enjoyment.

The preparations for the entertainment are being made by the following committee: Mrs. Mary Lawrence, Mrs. Sophie Drews, Joseph Albert Woods, and George Luce. They have arranged for a delightful banquet with their class, and do college activities tell on college records?"

"With considerable care I have prepared the statistics of the class of 1905, which will to a degree answer such questions as suggested above. "By the class of 1905 I include those that entered in August, 1901, and graduated in December, 1904, or May, 1905.

John Silva Tavarres, a Portuguese of this place, has been charged with battery by Alexander Pizanto, who alleges that Tavarres threw down and mistreated Jackson Pizanto, his son. The accused man appeared before Judge Provost yesterday morning and stated that he had indeed seized the lad, but had done it under the supposition that he was one of a number who had been throwing dead cats and tin cans into his yard.

When Tavarres issued forth from his residence to avenge the insult to his property, he found this boy standing before the gate, whence all had been thrown. He met out rough and ready justice, which has caused the lad's father to swear out the warrant.

As Marshal Schilling had not yet served the paper on Tavarres, there was no arraignment.

Other boys have also been arousing the temper of the worthy Portuguese. Yesterday morning he found that some one had thrown refuse into his water tank, and he is consulting with the officers of the law to obtain revenge.

FOR SISTER LODGE.

With feasting and a general good time the Native Sons of Eden Parlor are to entertain the Native Daughters of Haywards Parlor tomorrow night at the N. S. G. W. Hall. There will be the usual round of toasts at the conclusion of the supper, in which all the leaders in both lodges will make addresses on topics of interest to the guests.

On the committee of arrangements are Jacob Harder, Charles Pimentel, Fred Geary, William Zambresky, and John Geary.

BRIEFLETS.

P. Swift of Oakland has the purchase of a valuable property here yesterday. Through the agency of Charles Provost he bought a five-acre tract from A. T. Powers for the sum of $1500. He expects to improve the land and make a large profit from the products of the soil.

From fourteen to sixteen carloads of plums, prunes and pears are being shipped daily from here on the Southern Pacific. A large amount of peaches is being imported by the Hunt Brothers' cannery, which is running full blast. A large force of workers is rushing the labor, and the output promises to be a record breaker.

In railroad circles no little degree of satisfaction is expressed at the victory.

CASE OF SUICIDE

Inquest Into Death of Charles M. Cook.

SAN LEANDRO, August 8.—The cause of the death Friday of Charles M. Cook of this place was investigated yesterday morning by Coroner McMahon and a jury. After hearing the testimony of Dr. Miller and J. Arnold, the brother-in-law of the deceased, the jury brought a verdict of death due to an overdose of acetic acid taken with suicidal intent.

Mr. Cook had just returned from the funeral of his cousin, Thomas Cook of Fruitvale, when he was met by his wife in San Leandro. He appeared to be suffering, and she got him home as quickly as possible and called the doctor. Before he arrived the man was dead.

Mr. Arnold testified that three times before the deceased had attempted to take his life. It is supposed that the effects of the funeral caused the latest endeavor.

On the jury were the following residents of San Leandro: T. W. Bule (foreman), J. Silva, William Reed, W. Crane, J. Vogt, and Frank Estes.

The funeral was held Sunday under the joint auspices of the Odd Fellows and the Foresters, as he was a member of both orders. It took place at the Odd Fellows' Hall, with the noble grand of the lodge in charge. The Rev. J. E. Anderson, pastor of the Presbyterian Church here, officiated at the funeral. Interment was at Mountain View Cemetery.

MILLER'S FUNERAL.

The body of Manuel Miller was followed to the grave yesterday by his friends after a funeral at the U. P. E. C. Hall. He was thirty-eight years old and leaves a family. Interment was at Mountain View Cemetery.

Daughter of Admiral to Wed Soon.

BERKELEY, August 8.—Miss Katherine Glass, daughter of Rear-Admiral Glass, U. S. A., and Mrs. Glass, has just returned from a visit of several months to her grandmother, Mrs. C. V. Johnson, at Santa Rafael.

Miss Katherine's fiancé, Dr. Francis G. Munson, U. S. N., is on his way home from Manila, where he has been stationed for more than one year. He is expected before the middle of August, and as soon as he arrives the preparations and plans for the wedding will go rapidly forward.

Dr. Munson's leave will end before Christmas, so the marriage will probably be in November, the voyage back to Manila having been planned as part of the honeymoon.

The wedding is to take place in Berkeley at the beautiful new home, completed this summer by Rear-Admiral and Mrs. Glass, and will be quite elaborate.

MASONS TO BUILD

Fruitvale Lodge to Have a New Hall.

FRUITVALE, August 8.—Members of the local lodge of Masons are preparing to build a new Masonic Temple in Fruitvale. The old building is far too small for the convenience of the organizations which wish to make use of it for meetings and entertainments.

A site has been chosen on East Fourteenth street for the proposed temple. Committees are at work getting plans drawn and estimates from contractors and supply dealers.

The hall now belonging to Lodge No. 335 is the largest of its kind in the central part of Fruitvale. The floor space is about 25x100 feet, and makes it almost impossible to hold a dance or large function there.

For several months the members have been working quietly and are almost ready to make public the details of the scheme. A company has been formed, with the leading members of the local organization as trustees and directors.

MINOR MENTION.

The Fruitvale Congregational Cadet Corps is making preparations for an entertainment to be held this evening at the armory. The social committee has arranged a delightful program of literary, musical and athletic numbers. All the members are requested to be present.

The baseball nine representing the Fruitvale Hose Company went to Haywards Sunday and returned with the scalp of the Young Heeseamans. The home nine was defeated by a score of 9 to 6, after a hard and exciting game.

Red Men's Hall, the barber here, is to start next Monday for Nevada City as delegate from the Ah Wah Nee Tribe of Red Men to the State convention there.

He expects to be gone two weeks, though the meetings are to continue only half that time.

Last week Mrs. Edward Lane of High street had her hip broken by a fall from a couch. She had to be removed to the Alameda Sanatorium. On account of her age it is feared that the injury may have serious consequences.

Joe Adams, who works for Theo. Butcher, the butcher, returned yesterday from a two week trip to Shasta county and elsewhere. He had a very enjoyable vacation.

TO HOLD A RAFFLE

Chances Will be Offered on a Pillow.

ELMHURST, August 8.—Every one who attends the entertainment to be given on August 16 by the Companions of the Forest here will have one chance at the beautiful sofa pillow which is to be raffled. The affair is to be given by the lodge for the purpose of raising money for the treasury.

Red Men's Hall, the scene of the entertainment, will be handsomely decorated with greens and flowers by the ladies of the circle. During the evening refreshments will be served. A very large attendance is assured by the fine reputation of the party for hospitality.

A new party is to be given in the near future by the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church here. The date for the affair has not been set yet. Many unique features are in preparation by the ladies.

GARDEN PARTY FOR A CHURCH

BERKELEY, August 8.—A garden party will be given at the home of Miss Matthew, 2553 San Pablo avenue, next Thursday evening for the benefit of St. Columba Church, Golden Gate. Harry Brown, the well-known San Francisco baritone, will give several selections and will be accompanied by Charles B. Swift. Numbers will also be rendered by the Rolland Club quartet and F. McGinty and J. Leighton. Refreshments will be served in the garden.

FIRST WHITE CHILD BORN IN ALAMEDA COUNTY

ROBERT ABBEY.

This Aged Man Claims That Honor --Alameda Trustees in Session.

ALAMEDA, August 8.—The first white child born in Oakland—now a man grided and bent with life's hardships—is living today in the town of Newark, Alameda county, and his name is Robert Abbey, born in Oakland on February 23, 1851, which makes him 54 years of age. For more than half a century Mr. Abbey, the first native-born Oaklander, has made his home in this county. A correspondent of the TRIBUNE met the original native recently at Newark, and many and various were the reminiscences he had to relate of early days.

Mr. Abbey has a rival claimant to the honor of being the first child born of white parents in Oakland, as it was recently stated that Mrs. C. L. Metzger of this city, who was born in 1853, claimed this distinction. Abbey, however, according to his well attested declarations, was two years of age and living with his parents among the oaks on what was to be the site of a great city by the Golden Gate, when Mrs. Metzger was a babe in arms.

Mr. Abbey, who claims the unique distinction of being Oakland's first native-born white child, first saw the light of day, he says, in a house located on what is now Thirteenth and Oak streets near the city hall.

"My mother," said Abbey, "was the first white woman to settle in Oakland. She came to that city in September, 1850. I left Oakland when I was 13 years of age, and have ever since resided in the vicinity of Newark. My father, William Abbey, was a pioneer market hunter, and he came to California from Scotland."

"Oakland as I remember it as a boy, was heavily wooded with live oaks, and houses were scarce as hen's teeth. After we left there my father trained me to hunt, and as wild fowl were plentiful we found a ready sale for quantities of game we slaughtered in sloughs and marshes."

Abbey has always remained a bachelor. He has a sister living in Newark, but no other known relatives. For thirty-nine years he has made his home in Newark, where he is popularly known among a wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

CITY TRUSTEES.

ALAMEDA, August 8.—The Board of City Trustees met last evening, and the usual order of business was transacted. Mr. Forderer, the chairman of the electric light committee, reported that the engine that was recently installed at the municipal plant was rapidly rounding into shape, and that within a few weeks it would be in perfect running condition.

The fire committee recommended that a fire alarm box be installed at the Fifth street station. On a motion of Mr. Forderer, the matter was presented to the Board and, after taking a vote, was passed.

William A. Bowers, chairman of the license committee, reported that the saloon licenses, nineteen in number, were renewed for another year. Janitor Goodall of the Longfellow School was appointed a special policeman without pay. Superintendent of Streets V. M. Frodren reported favorably on the request of Hutchings and Company in the matter of their request for further time in the macadamizing of Alameda avenue and Park street.

The residents of Park avenue between San Jose avenue and Elmhurst avenue petitioned for an arc light. The matter was referred to the electric light committee.

J. G. Bailey was appointed a special policeman at the Park Theater. His appointment was signed by Chief of Police John Conrad and Will M. Robinson, the manager of the theater.

The North Side Improvement Club presented a protest against the poles of the telegraph and telephone companies, which they claim, injure the beauty of their section of town. They requested that the wires be placed underground. The matter was referred to the electric light committee.

The report of Poundmaster Alfred Ewing was filed. He is to be called before the Board at a committee meeting on next Friday evening, when he will endeavor to explain to them why he impounded several dogs that were under age. There have been a number of complaints against the present poundmaster, and the present fee ev-tem, and his actions are to receive a thorough investigation at the committee meeting.

The salary of City Electrician Joseph B. Kahn was raised from $125 a month to $150.

CHINESE ROUGHHOUSE.

ALAMEDA, August 8.—There was a wild time in Chinatown last night when Won Lung, an Americanized Chinese, endeavored to wipe out a horde of Japs. Won Lung, who is a second Jim Jeffries, had been annoyed by the Japs, and this evening the culminating point of the abuse arrived, and the Celestial could no longer stand the strain. He "waded into" the Japs, and in a very few minutes he had his place of business looking like a hospital. Even though the name of the Chinese would lead one to think that he was in no condition to do combat, he so thoroughly "did up" the Mikado's men that they will not bother him for many days to come. No arrests were made.

and of other dire things have been made by a New York professor of superior sciences. Those prophecies have alarmed many but they have been without effect, other than to induce a smile, on those who have their valuables in the Safe Deposit Vaults of the Central Bank.

Would you see the safest place on earth—absolutely safe from earthquakes, fires and burglars.

—Then see the magnificent vaults of the Central Bank.

And for four dollars a year you can rent an individual box in the heart of all this massive safety.

RAISIN GROWERS WOMAN CUTS HER UNITE THROAT

HENRY J. CROCKER WILL HEAD
THE ORGANIZATION IN STATE.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 8.—After six years of disagreement between the raisin growers and raisin packers of California, a step was taken yesterday that bids fair to increase the prosperity of both branches of the raisin industry and add millions of dollars to the wealth of California in a comparatively short time. The organization of a Board of Directors for a new corporation to be known as the Central California Raisin Packers' Association was insured and Henry J. Crocker, whose efforts resulted in combining the raisin makers and the State agreed to become the eleventh director in the board of the raisin packing association.

The completed Board of Directors consists of Henry J. Crocker, who will be elected president of the corporation; M. F. Tarpey, W. B. Nichols, Mr. Blowers of Hanford, A. P. Jordan and Arthur W. Goodfellow, representing the raisin growers; and George W. Arnsby, A. Garter, John L. L. Grant and H. G. Guggenheimer, representing the raisin packers. Mr. Crocker is selected as an independent, allied with neither interest, but friendly to both and enthusiastic in promoting the interests of this State.

The purpose of the corporation, as described by M. F. Tarpey, is to provide for the joint ownership and operation of the raisin packing plants in Central California, Fresno being the center of operations, for the good of the entire raisin industry. The growers agree to buy out a one-half interest in the packing plants at an appraised valuation and appraisers are now looking over the properties. The raisin growers do not part with any interest in their vineyards and other properties.

Majority of the raisin growers of Central California agree to become shareholders in the corporation. The capitalization is for about $300,000. There was great rejoicing among the interested parties yesterday. Several organizations have been formed by the raisin growers in a few years, but up to this time none has been permanently successful. It is that the new plan, by which all interests are to pull together, will be of large general benefit and that it will be permanently effective.

OLD MAN DIES OF A BROKEN HEART

VENTURA, August 8.—John Kelly of Santa Paula died in the hospital here yesterday, and as he passed away his hotel property in Santa Paula was burning. Kelly died of a broken heart. He was 69 years of age, a native of England and a veteran of the Crimean and Civil wars. He was a pioneer resident of Santa Paula, where he owned considerable property.

Two years ago he went to Washington, D. C., where he secured a good position with the Government. In his absence he left his hotel business in charge of his wife and their fifteen-year-old son. A few months ago a young fellow named Purcell came to Santa Paula and leased the hotel from Mrs. Kelly and soon began making love to her.

The affair prospered so well that the neighbors soon began talking and Kelly got word of what was going on. He concluded to return and investigate, but before his arrival Purcell and the woman skipped out to Los Angeles, where they are now living—the woman claiming that they are married and that she was never married to Kelly.

While the blow was a hard one to Kelly, he was willing to let the woman go, being satisfied to have the boy, but later the boy also deserted the old man, and the latter suffered such a shock at his abandonment that he died. The burning of the Kelly hotel is thought to be of incendiary origin and will be investigated.

SHE DID NOT WANT TO COME TO OAKLAND TO LIVE.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 8.—Because she did not want to live in Oakland and her husband told her to cut her throat, Mrs. Augusta Hartke of 1509 Polson street attempted her life last evening by severing the muscles of her neck with a butcher knife. She was taken to the Central Emergency Hospital and treated by Dr. Reuben C. Hill. She probably will recover.

WILL TAKE CASE TO SUPREME COURT

SAN FRANCISCO, August 8.—City Attorney Long yesterday filed an opinion with the Board of Supervisors advising that the petitions for the return of taxes paid as the result of the assessment of the stock of the national banking associations be rejected, as he proposes to submit the questions involved in a determination of the validity of the tax to the Supreme Court of the State of California.

The opinion says: "In view of the doubt which has arisen as to just what is the law in California, as expressed by our Supreme Court on this subject of State importance, and in view of the fact that such doubt is so grave as to divide the Supreme Court of the United States so that five of the Justices of that court adopted one view and four the other, and further, in view of the fact that I am of opinion that the majority and controlling opinion in that case misconceives and misconstrues the ruling of our Supreme Court, I conceive it to be my duty to submit the questions involved in a determination of the validity of this tax to the Supreme Court of the State of California."

City Attorney Long advised the board that his office possesses every facility for presenting all claims against the State for the support and maintenance of aged persons in indigent circumstances. Long says there is no necessity for the employment of Louis E. Brownstone and Milton Nathan as special counsel. He entered into a contract to recover certain moneys due the city on that account.

HARRIMAN TELLS OF HIS PLANS

PORTLAND, Or., August 8.—E. H. Harriman, who is in Portland on the way to San Francisco and the Orient, in an interview confirms the announcement recently made by General Manager J. P. O'Brien of the Harriman lines, that the Southern Pacific intends immediately to construct a line to Coos Bay.

Next Saturday night the company will go to Diamond Canyon for an all-day drill in camp Sunday. The company will go fully equipped and anticipates considerable fun and the work. This return will be made Sunday evening.

DEATH ON BOARD OF THIS CAR

Two Passengers Fatally
Burned, Two Injured
in Trolley.

NEW YORK, August 8.—Through the short-circuiting of a controller box in front of a trolley car on the Brighton Beach line last night, two passengers were fatally burned and two others seriously injured. Two of the number were women.

A large crowd returning from the beach was on board the car, which was an open one. Four passengers were on the front seat behind the motorman.

When the latter threw off the power at Neck Road and applied his brake there was a blinding flash followed by screams of pain from those near the motor box. Enveloped in a sheet of blue fire, they leaped over the dashboard and saved themselves from death. All the lights were extinguished and there was a terrific scramble among the crowd to reach the ground. Several women and children were severely bruised before order was restored.

SECRET SERVICE AGENTS ABOARD

NEW YORK, August 8.—Through the arrest of Captain Romaldo de Paravich, of an Austrian line steamship, charged with bringing over 600 steerage passengers for whom there were not regulation accommodations, it has developed that ten secret service agents are traveling for a time in the steerage of incoming steamers. Captain Paravich was held in cash bail before a United States Commissioner.

It appears that the secret service agents having been going on board at quarantine and eating the food served to the steerage passengers, sleeping in the quarters provided for them and sharing their lot in all ways until they are discharged on Ellis Island. The inspection is being made under orders of Nevada N. Stranahan, Collector of the Port of New York. This inspection is in addition to the regular inspection of the ships which is done by uniformed officials who board the ships at the end of each voyage and formally report in detail the conditions they find to the Collector.

NO APPEAL IS NOW POSSIBLE

NEW YORK, August 8.—No appeal is now possible before the Venezuelan courts against the judgment handed down by the Federal Court against the New York and Bermuda Asphalt Company, cables the Herald's correspondent at Caracas. All the points in the original judgment of May 20 are confirmed by the present decision in addition to the annulment of the Hamilton contract, in connection with which damages for the Government are awarded.

COMPANY F TO GO ON OUTING

Company F of the Fifth Regiment, N. G. C., held its regular monthly inspection and dance in the armory at Maple Hall last night. The inspecting officer was Captain G. W. Wetherill and after this was through the hall was given over to dancing.

WOMAN MAY HAVE ENDED LIFE

CINCINNATI, August 8.—"When you read this I will be at the bottom of the river. You need not look for me. Let my darling Violet remain with my mother, and never tell her what her heart-broken mother did. I am tired, tired, tired."

A. L. Williams of 14 West Fourteenth street found this note awaiting him when he returned home last night. The note caused him to become angry and he wrecked the furniture with a hatchet. Later his anger changed to sorrow when his wife failed to return, and he became certain that she had ended her life. He left his home, saying: "I am going to San Francisco."

NEGRO IS HANGED BY MOB

Armed Men Take Prisoner
From a Jail in Texas.

WACO, Texas, August 8.—At 2 o'clock this morning mounted citizens numbering about 600, surrounded the Court House and jail, and after making prisoners of Sheriff Tilley, the jailor and all the deputy sheriffs, broke open the jail, took Sank Majors out, and after hearing his confession, hung him from the new bridge.

He is still hanging there and the mob is still in the city.

Majors had recently been convicted for criminal assault and given the death penalty, but had been granted a new trial by Judge Sturritt, in order that there might be no opportunity for the Court of Criminal Appeals to reverse the sentence on a technicality.

STREET CAR LINES TO FORM COMBINE

CHICAGO, August 8.—Representatives of the controlling financial interests in the various local street car companies will meet in New York within a couple of days for the purpose of considering the plans for a merger of the various lines upon a one city, one company, one system and one fare basis, and also to go over the legal and rehabilitation proposition which the representatives of the various street car companies of Chicago have had under discussion.

John J. Mitchell, the well known banker of this city, who is one of the controlling men in the traction syndicate, has gone to New York, and it was announced that he will there meet the other controlling financial men who are expected to furnish the money necessary for the rehabilitation of the lines. Mr. Mitchell, before his departure, stated that he hoped some settlement arrangement could be agreed upon between the city and the companies within a short time.

BRINGS A SUIT FOR AN ACCOUNTING

SAN FRANCISCO, August 8.—W. B. Swears alleges that James J. Cummings, with whom he went into partnership for the purpose of locating and developing magnesite and manganese claims, has not dealt fairly with him. They acquired twenty-seven magnesite lode claims in Alameda, Santa Clara and Stanislaus counties, which were sold to the American Magnesite Company for $30,000 in cash and 222 $1000 bonds. Swears says that Cummings, who conducted the sale and received the purchase price, gave him only two of the bonds, although he was entitled to half of the amount paid. It is charged that Cummings bought with the cash real estate in this city and Alameda county, which is held in the name of his wife, Annie E. Cummings, and she is joined as a defendant in the suit for an accounting, which Swears instituted yesterday.

TRAFFIC CONFUSED BY FIRE

Thousands of Commuters
Are Handicapped in New York.

NEW YORK, August 8.—Strenuous efforts were made by the management of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railway today to bring into New York the thousands of commuters whose homes are along its route and to overcome the handicap imposed by the destruction of railroad station, ferry slips and partial loss of two ferry boats last night.

After a hurried consultation with the officials of the Erie and Pennsylvania railroads, the Lackawanna Railroad trains were diverted to the stations of those two railroads in Jersey City.

A hundred extra trolley cars were sent through the suburban district of Jersey to bring the commuters to the Newark station of the Pennsylvania Railway.

Extra ferryboats were added to the ferry lines of the Erie and Pennsylvania railroads to take care of the heavy increase of traffic thrown on those two lines.

It is estimated that the loss to the Lackawanna Railroad by the fire will be $500,000. To repair the damage ever mechanic on the line who can be spared has been ordered to come to Hoboken, and it is announced that within a week the Lackawanna road will be able to handle its own traffic.

FATALITY LIST OF BENNINGTON EXPLOSION NUMBERS SIXTY-SIX.

SAN DIEGO, August 8.—The sixty-sixth name has been added to the list of fatalities due to the explosion of the gunboat Bennington in San Diego harbor July 21. J. Mueller died this morning at the barracks hospital, where a score of his comrades are still confined as a result of their injuries.

Mueller was forty-one years old, was chief makers' mate, and enlisted at San Francisco. He was terribly burned about the head and neck, but though his wounds have been healing satisfactorily, little hope of his recovery has been entertained at any time. His death was directly due to ulcer of the stomach, a secondary complication.

All day yesterday he grew worse, and a surgeon and nurse were with him constantly last night. It is hoped no further deaths will occur among the victims.

Arrangements were being made for transferring the rest of the injured to Mare Island hospital, where skin-grafting will be performed upon several of them.

The board of inquiry has finished taking the testimony and is now engaged in hearing the opinions of experts as to the cause of the explosion.

The findings of the board will probably be handed to Admiral Goodrich within two or three days.

BREAD FAMINE IS THREATENED

NEW YORK, August 8.—The strike of the kosher bakers on the East Side has not only brought thousands of orthodox Hebrews face to face with a bread famine, but threatens to cut off the bread supply of entire Greater New York by precipitating sympathetic action of the journeymen bakers of Manhattan, Brooklyn and Bronx. The kosher bakers walked out at a very effective time, right in the midst of the celebration of the Jewish Tichlov, which commemorates the turning out of the money-changers from Solomon's Temple, when for nine days the orthodox Hebrews eat no meat.

Kosher bakers say their striking employees are simply tools of individuals of the Sam Parks type. They declare that every three or four months they are held up by walking delegates of the union and mulcted of $10 as the price of protection from strike.

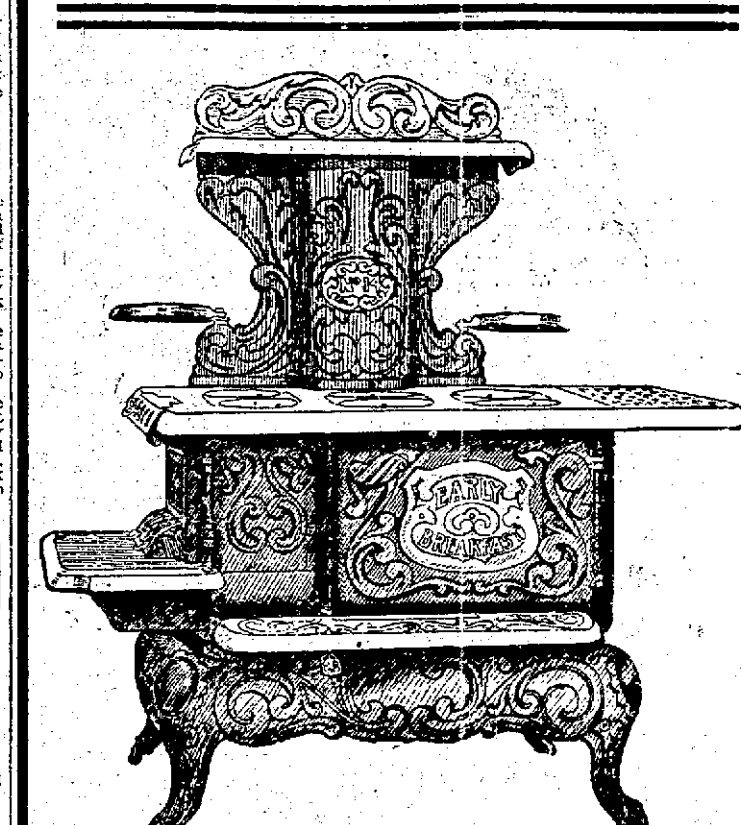

Officers of the various bakers' unions involved in the strike announced today that they would call upon the factory inspectors and the Board of Health to inspect the bake shops of the East Side. They declare that hundreds of shops are in a disgraceful condition, not only unfit for bakers to exist in, but so unsanitary that no bread out of them should ever be sold.

LARGE ESTATE WILL GO TO HEIRS

UTICA, N. Y., August 8.—By the will of Thomas Fitzgerald, who died in Los Angeles a few days ago, three residents of Little Falls will divide among them an estate which is estimated as worth $200,000 and which may reach $350,000.

The beneficiaries are James and Patrick Fitzgerald, brothers, and Miss Margaret O'Loughlin, daughter of a deceased sister of the testator. James Fitzgerald conducted a grocery store in Little Falls and has an aptitude for politics. Patrick is foreman of a track gang on the Little Falls and Delongville Railroad. Margaret O'Loughlin works in one of the mills in the town and when acquaintances refer to her good fortune suggested that she would now probably give to her

Early Breakfast Ranges

Four months ago we advertised, for the first time in Oakland, the famous EARLY BREAKFAST RANGE. We sold a great many. Those we sold have now been tested. We refer you therefore, not to our own statements but to people who are actually using them today.

The EARLY BREAKFAST is without a doubt the greatest cast range in the country. It is absolutely perfect and satisfactory to the smallest detail.

Ask us to explain its many advantages. Ask about the "full sheet blue system," the "indestructible camper," the "lift out grate," the "oven toasting rack," and the "reversible pipe collar."

The EARLY BREAKFAST RANGE, by its small fire box, gives more heat from less fuel than any other range on the market. Every style is beautifully finished, but not so elaborate that they cannot be kept clean easily.

These ranges are made of Pennsylvania Iron with heavily nickel-plated rims, plate knobs, etc. Burn either wood and coal and very economical. Guaranteed for two years.

WANTED THE FRILLS.

George C. Boldt, the noted hotel man, said in an address to an audience of hotel clerks: "There are no perfect hotel clerks. We can only try, in our imperfect human way, to read our guests, and sometimes, naturally, we make mistakes. Like Mr. Blank, a clerk of the excellent hotel, there entered one day an elderly farmer. The man wore expensive clothes, but Blank knew him for a farmer at a glance. 'What are a farmer's tastes?' What appeals most to a farmer? He asked himself hurriedly. And then he said: 'We can give you all the home comforts here, sir.' The farmer laid down the pen with which he had been entering his name and said in a disappointed voice:

"I want more'n that when I come to a York hotel, young man. I kin git the home comforts at home."—New York Tribune.
